Carolinas Appear Hardest Hit

Asian-Type Flu Sweeps Eastern U.S.; 20 Dead

By The Associated Press

Asian flu—or something very similar—is sweeping the eastern half of the nation, causing widespread absenteeism among students and teachers, forcing some schools to close and resulting in at least 20 deaths.

The Carolinas appear to be hardest hit.

North Carolina has been declared an epidemic area with flu outbreaks in about 20 counties and at least two deaths reported from the Asian variety. Three others died of "flu-like" ailments.

In South Carolina, three counties have had serious flu problems. Hospitals are overflowing with patients in Columbia and Walterboro. More tha a dozen flu deaths have been reported in the state.

Health officials said the flu probably is the Asian strain in South Carolina, although it is not officially diagnosed as such. It has been confirmed as the Asian type in North Carolina.

Schools in Trigg County, Ky., closed indefinitely because 20 per cent of 2,000 pupils were ill. At nearby Hopkinsville, Ky., the hospital said it is tending the greatest number of patients in its 49-year history.

More than 7,200 pupils and teachers were absent from Louisville, Ky., schools Monday.

School absenteeism also was running high in Maryland's coastal area (about twice as much as normal), in Cincinnati (thousands out), in St. Louis (about 10 per cent of the school population) and in Norwich, Conn. (nearly 50 per cent).

In Bridgeport, Conn., schools were closed Monday to give teachers suffering from "flu - like" symptoms time to recuperate.

The Sharon Springs Central School in Schoharie County, N.Y., closed its doors for the week after 135 of the 425 students and eight faculty members developed a flu-like ailment.

The Chillicothe, Ohio, Veterans Administration hospital reported that more than 100 patients have a type of influenza symptomatic of the Asian variety.

Seventy Navy recruits at the Great Lakes Training Center in Illinois are under treatment for Asian flu. In the past three weeks, the disease has struck 270 of the 8,000 recruits there.

In Washington two elderly persons are dead of the disease, but health officials said Asian flu cases there are not in epidemic proportions.

In adjacent Virginia, however, there were 1,876 flu-type cases—not necessarily Asian—at the last count, and 9,500 such cases last week. Virginia health officials also reported an increased number of deaths around the state caused by flu-type and respiratory diseases.

Dr. J. Earl Smith, St. Louis health director, said many people in his city heeded flu warnings and took inoculations which will lessen the disease's effect.

The Public Health Service in Washington took a sampling of 108 cities and said pneumonia-influenza deaths have been above the epidemic threshold for four weeks.

Especially vulnerable to flu, the service said, are the elderly, the chronically ill and pregnant women. The flu weakens them and, in many instances, makes them susceptible to pneumonia.

The service said Asian flu has been confirmed in Maryland, Kansas, Illinois, North Carolina and the District of Columbia. It has not been confirmed but is suspected strongly in Vermont, Maine, Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia.

Tragedy In Everglades

U.S. Probes Jet Crash Fatal To 43 In Florida

A-Test Ban Talks Slated In Privacy

U.S. Delegate To Meet Neutrals In New Geneva Effort

GENEVA (AP)—President Kennedy's chief disarmament negotiator began a series of private talks with neutral delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference today in an attempt to bring the main focus of the talks back to a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

U.S. delegate William C. Foster's first meeting was with Abdel Fattah Hassan of the United Arab Republic. He also scheduled talks with the Swedish and Nigerian delegations and with the delegates from Britain, Italy and Canada.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov surprised the delegates Tuesday with a proposal for a treaty banning the deployment of nuclear weapon systems in foreign lands and seas.

The proposal, unacceptable to the Western powers, overshadowed the test ban issue as the conference resumed after a two-month recess. Western delegates said Kuznetsov's proposal was a maneuver designed to draw attention away from Soviet stalling tactics in the test ban negotiations.

One Western official speculated that the proposal might have been designed to impress the Chinese Communists — who are not represented here — with the Soviet Union's intransigence. The official said Kuznetsov himself must have been fully aware that the West was certain to reject the proposal.

The next session of the conference is scheduled for Thursday.

DISASTER IN EVERGLADES. This is the wreckage of the Northwest Orient Airlines jet which crashed in the Florida Everglades Tuesday afternoon, killing all 43 aboard. The Boeing 720B jetliner was en route from Miami to Chicago. (UPI Telephoto)

CAB, FBI Seek Cause Of Disaster

Plummeted Into Swamp Soon After Takeoff At Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Charred remains of a jet airliner, which crashed deep in the Florida Everglades with 43 persons aboard, were studied today by federal investigators seeking a cause for the tragedy. There were no survivors.

Civil Aeronautics Board and FBI agents worked behind tight security measures, trying to learn why the Northwest Orient Airlines jet plummeted out of the sky Tuesday only minutes after leaving Miami for Chicago, Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore.

A planned helicopter airlift of bodies from the smoldering wreckage was delayed by the investigation.

John McWhorter of Miami, in charge of CAB operations at the search base, said the first bodies might not arrive until after noon.

Seminole Indian children were given a holiday as their school house, 50 miles west of Miami, at a place called Miccosukee, became a temporary morgue. The school also served as a CAB communications base.

The craft lost radio contact with Miami International Airport traffic control seven minutes after it took off in a rain squall at 1:35 p.m. Six and one-half hours elapsed before the fireswept wreck was sighted 43 miles southwest of Miami, in a search that covered the Southeast.

Coast Guardmen, who spotted the Boeing 720B from a helicopter landed and found no indication that any of the 35 passengers and 8 crew members had survived.

"It lay smack in the middle of a swamp. The fuselage was all busted up and consumed by fire," the 'copter crew said.

Planes of the Air Force, Coast Guard and Civil Air Patrol began the hunt half an hour after the ground radio contact with the jetliner suddenly broke off at 1:42 p.m. That was only seven minutes after airliner Capt. Roy W. Almquist of Rosemount, Minn., lifted his craft from Miami International Airport.

The search was intensified in the Everglades west of Miami when sport fishermen scattered through the area began reporting they saw fire in the sky.

One of the first reports came from Gordon Swann of Naples, who was fishing in Everglades National Park.

"Suddenly there was a ball of fire within a cloud, and a rain of fire descended all the way to the rim of mangrove trees on our horizon," Swann said. He got word to a park ranger who relayed it to Coast Guard search headquarters.

Kennedy Bids For Larger Finance Unit

Seeks More Elbow Room For Tax Bill, Other Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has put his weight behind an effort to enlarge the Senate's key Finance Committee to get more elbow room there for his tax bill and other major legislation.

In his first intervention in such Senate matters, the President has sent White House aides to Capitol Hill to lobby for the addition of two seats to the 17-member committee headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. Byrd is opposing this proposal.

The move—which presidential aides have tried to keep under cover—parallels Kennedy's earlier successful public fight to retain the traffic-directing House Rules Committee at the membership level of 15 calculated to open the road for action on his program.

The first test vote on enlarging the Finance Committee to 19 will come at a closed meeting Thursday of the Senate Democratic Steering Committee. This group is headed by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

The outcome may depend on whether members vote by secret ballot. The administration holds a nominal 8-7 margin over seven Southern conservatives who could be expected to resist the placement of additional liberal party members on a committee previously dominated by a conservative Republican-Democratic coalition.

If the steering group should vote to expand the Finance Committee, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has promised to fight the action in the Senate. Presumably he would have almost solid Republican support, plus that of many conservative Democrats.

Dirksen is slated to fill a Republican vacancy on the Finance group. His opposition to enlargement of the committee may be somewhat compromised by his efforts to get the Senate Appropriations Committee expanded so that Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., will not lose his seat on that important group.

The President's action in stepping into the controversy was regarded in some quarters as a move to placate liberal Democrats who complained bitterly that he did not lift a hand for them in their vain effort to make it easier for the Senate to cut off filibusters.

More compelling than aid to the liberals apparently is White House anxiety over the fate of the presidential program for tax cuts accompanied by structural changes in the revenue laws.

If the President's men win their fight for enlargement of the committee, there will be a scramble for three Democratic places on it.

At least six Democrats have been mentioned in this connection, not all of them liberals.

West Virginia Legislature Extends Tax

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—With the sales tax issue disposed of for another year, the Legislature shifted its attention today to snake handling, the Marshall University building program and the amount of liquor that may be sold at one time by state stores.

By a 17-11 vote Tuesday the Senate passed and sent to Gov. Barron the third extension of the "temporary" increase in the retail sales tax, first passed two years ago.

The act will prolong through June 30, 1964, the boost from 2 to 3 per cent on sales above $1.

The Senate had voted last month to make the increase permanent. But the House wrote in another one-year cutoff on the increase, putting the measure in the form recommended by Barron.

By the same vote and with the same one-year cutoff, the Senate also passed and sent to the governor an extension of the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the use tax, a levy on articles bought out of state for use in West Virginia.

The House passed 66-33 and sent to the governor an act to continue another expiring tax increase, in this case permanently. This involved a hike from 2 to 3 per cent in the insurance premium tax, scheduled to die June 30.

An estimated $14.2 million in yearly revenue is involved in the three increases which will be continued under the three measures passed yesterday.

Among five bills up for Senate passage today was a measure to authorize issuance of up to $5.7 million worth of revenue bonds to be paid off from tuition fees to finance construction at Marshall University in Huntington.

Special Message Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to send a special message to Congress Thursday on training and opportunities for youth. One dealing with problems of the aged will go to Capitol Hill next week.

Ohio Marine Home First In 50-Mile Hike

Sprints Last Yards; Other 33 In Fitness Jaunt Due In Today

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (AP)—When a President raises a doubt and when your commanding general and your girl friend are waiting—about all any sensible Marine can do is to come through handsomely.

And so Lt. Donald Bernath of Wauseon, Ohio, did just that.

While nine powerful lights lit up an otherwise gloomy scene, Bernath sprinted down the straightaway to become the first of 34 Marines to finish a 50-mile hike.

Others wearily pounded on through the night. All the remaining 34, including Brig. Gen. Rathvon McClure Tompkins, the highest ranking officer making the hike, were expected to finish their long grind today.

Bernath started walking at 8:05 a.m., and wound up at 8:52 p.m. with time out for one rest stop, his marching time was 11 hours and 44 minutes.

In second place came Lt. Harry J. Crossen Jr., of Philadelphia, who plodded home in 11 hours and 59 minutes.

President Kennedy, who had wondered if the Marines of today are as fit as those of 1908, could not have had a better answer than the one Bernath supplied.

With his date, Rita Morris of nearby Jacksonville, joining him for about 25 yards of his final 200-yard sprint, Bernath raced over the finish line to receive in person the congratulations of Maj. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman, commander of the 2nd Marine division.

Bernath wasn't even breathing hard. And he had time for a few words of advice to anyone who also might wish to spend the day hiking 50 miles.

"Stay in shape," Bernath said, "And get out from behind that desk."

Girl Given Probation In Slaying Case

BOSTON (AP)— Post-debutante Suzanne Clift, 21, was released today in 10 years probation after she was permitted to plead guilty to manslaughter in the death of her boyfriend.

Judge Lewis Goldberg imposed what he called one important condition of the probation—that Miss Cliff voluntarily "commit yourself to the Massachusetts Medical Health Center to accept such treatment and for such time as authorities there prescribe."

By her plea, Miss Clift admitted she shot and killed Piero Brentani, 27, born in Dresden, Germany, of an Italian father and a German mother who lived in Trieste. Both now reside in Zurich, Switzerland.

Brentani was found shot to death last Oct. 1 in the Beacon Hill apartment which Miss Clift's attorney said Brentani shared with Miss Clift.

Judge Goldberg accepted the recommendation of attorney Claude B. Cross, counsel for Miss Clift, in imposing the probation.

Cross pointed out Miss Clift is five months pregnant by Brentani and should be permitted to raise her child with love in a normal manner.

Seven Congressional 'Cuties' Start Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven cute young congressional secretaries set out walking today to prove the physical fitness of the legislative branch of government.

An Army jeep carrying a medic and a driver followed the girls up the old towpath of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

It was President Kennedy's challenge to the Marines to walk 50 miles in 20 hours that started the hiking craze.

3 Killed, 9 Wounded In Logger Strike

Violence Erupts In Canada Following Weeks Of Tension

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (AP)—A strike that cut to the economic vitals of this bleak logging country has exploded, as many feared it would, into violence and death.

A spray of gunfire in the darkness, killing three strikers and wounding nine, climaxed four weeks of growing tension around this northern Ontario lumber center where delivery of a cord of wood can spell the difference between hunger and subsistence.

The tragey in the post-midnight hours of Monday morning had been building up since Jan. 14, when 1,500 union woodcutters stopped work to back up demands for a new contract with the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Co. and the Kimberly-Clark Pulp and Paper Co.

Efforts to settle the strike got nowhere. The company contended the strike was illegal because the union walked out while negotiations were in progress under a government mediator. The union said the men went out without authorization, frustrated by a lack of progress toward replacement of contract that expired 5½ months earlier.

The small provincial police detachment at Kapuskasing received 24 reinforcements, but they seemed unable to stop strikers from dumping wood from the settlers' trucks.

This was the situation as about 400 strikers in 80 cars pulled up to a private railway siding 37 miles west of here early Monday.

Gunfire burst from a hut where the settlers were camped. Twelve strikers were hit. Three died.

Police arrested settlers and gathered up 11 rifles, two shotguns and a revolver.

Rockefeller Spurs Bid In Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he "will leave no stone unturned to try to assist in bringing the parties together" in the printers' strike that led to the 68-day-old blackout of New York City's nine major newspapers.

Rockefeller made the statement Tuesday night to newsmen. He gave no clue to what action he might take.

Rockefeller, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Mayor Robert F. Wagner appointed an unofficial fact-finding panel of judges when the newspaper strike was a month old.

The panel filed a report which accused the printers of shutting down the papers and sitting back to await their surrender to union demands in the face of threatened extinction.

Occasional Light Snow Also Forecast After 2-Inch Fall

Occasional light snow was forecast today for the Tri-State District in the wake of the 2-inch fall of Tuesday that created hazardous driving conditions until road crews spread cinders.

Only scattered flurries were forecast for tonight but temperatures will turn colder with a low range of 8 to 14 expected. The colder trend will continue Thursday.

Bad Case Of Cold Feet

Marines, Girls Marching, But Not President's Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marines are marching. Girls are marching. Practically everyone seems to be marching. But Pierre Salinger is not marching.

He has a bad case of cold feet.

"I may be plucky, but I am not stupid," the President's plump press secretary announced Tuesday, and thus retired bowed but unbloodied from the New Frontier's sole-trying fitness course.

And so doing, he may have won a place in the hearts of all presidential assistants and the White House press corps. It was Salinger who had volunteered to pace them on a Friday hike along the C&O Canal.

With the leader gone, the expedition has collapsed, with many a sigh of relief.

But others go marching on, trying to prove themselves up to the 50-mile hike President Kennedy suggested to see if modern Marine officers were made of the same stuff they were in Teddy Roosevelt's day.

Lt. Donald L. Bernath was one Leatherneck who showed he was Tuesday night. He beat some 30 Camp Lejuene, N.C. Leathernecks across the finish line, with his girl friend sprinting the last 25 yards with him. He walked the 50-mile course in 11 hours and 44 minutes.

Some 10 young Capitol Hill secretaries plan to carry the colors of the legislative branch today in an assault on the old canal towpath. They are not trying to match the Leathernecks.

On Constitutional Convention

Legislature Urged To Ask Congress For Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two state senators want the Ohio Legislature to ask Congress for a constitutional convention to get a couple of matters settled.

Sen. Robert E. Zellar, R-Muskingum, wants a U.S. constitutional amendment to bar federal courts from consideration of state legislative apportionment disputes.

Sen. Tennyson Guyer, R-Findlay, wants a federal constitutional amendment which would permit two-thirds of the state legislatures to propose U.S. constitutional amendments of their own. Now, amendments may be proposed only by Congress or a constitutional convention. In any event, it still would require approval of three-fourths of the 50 legislatures (38) to ratify an amendment.

The Guyer and Zellar resolutions were offered while the House was passing and sending to the Senate a bill to ban the drinking of 3.2 beer in motor vehicles. The measure, approved 118-9, is aimed at youngsters 18 and up who are permitted by law to buy the so-called non-intoxicating brew.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to exempt from state sales tax prescriptions by dentists and chiropodist. Prescriptions by physicians already are tax-free.

A third House - approved bill practically would put big-city municipal courts on a par with common pleas courts by providing that appeals from municipal courts go directly to appellate courts, bypassing the common pleas.

Iraq's New Regime In Effective Control

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq's new military regime reportedly holds effective control of the oil-rich country although pockets of Communist resistance undoubtedly remain.

Baghdad, the capital, appears quiet and restrained, in sharp contrast to heavy firing which shook the city Monday night when National Guardsmen were rooting out the Reds.

Revolutionary President Abdel Salam Mohammed Aref on Tuesday let down the barriers which had barred foreign newsmen since the military revolt Feb. 8 overthrew Premier Abdel Karim Kassem. Two planeloads of correspondents arrived and received friendlier treatment than old hands remember under Kassem's suspicious regime.

Carolinas Appear Hardest Hit

Asian-Type Flu Sweeps Eastern U.S.; 20 Dead

By The Associated Press

Asian flu—or something very similar—is sweeping the eastern half of the nation, causing widespread absenteeism among students and teachers, forcing some schools to close and resulting in at least 20 deaths.

The Carolinas appear to be hardest hit.

North Carolina has been declared an epidemic area with flu outbreaks in about 20 counties and at least two deaths reported from the Asian variety. Three others died of "flu-like" ailments.

In South Carolina, three counties have had serious flu problems. Hospitals are overflowing with patients in Columbia and Walterboro. More tha a dozen flu deaths have been reported in the state.

Health officials said the flu probably is the Asian strain in South Carolina, although it is not officially diagnosed as such. It has been confirmed as the Asian type in North Carolina.

Schools in Trigg County, Ky., closed indefinitely because 20 per cent of 2,000 pupils were ill. At nearby Hopkinsville, Ky., the hospital said it is tending the greatest number of patients in its 49-year history.

More than 7,200 pupils and teachers were absent from Louisville, Ky., schools Monday.

School absenteeism also was running high in Maryland's coastal area (about twice as much as normal), in Cincinnati (thousands out), in St. Louis (about 10 per cent of the school population) and in Norwich, Conn. (nearly 50 per cent).

In Bridgeport, Conn., schools were closed Monday to give teachers suffering from "flu - like" symptoms time to recuperate.

The Sharon Springs Central School in Schoharie County, N.Y., closed its doors for the week after 135 of the 425 students and eight faculty members developed a flu-like ailment.

The Chillicothe, Ohio, Veterans Administration hospital reported that more than 100 patients have a type of influenza symptomatic of the Asian variety.

Seventy Navy recruits at the Great Lakes Training Center in Illinois are under treatment for Asian flu. In the past three weeks, the disease has struck 270 of the 8,000 recruits there.

In Washington two elderly persons are dead of the disease, but health officials said Asian flu cases there are not in epidemic proportions.

In adjacent Virginia, however, there were 1,876 flu-type cases—not necessarily Asian—at the last count, and 9,500 such cases last week. Virginia health officials also reported an increased number of deaths around the state caused by flu-type and respiratory diseases.

Dr. J. Earl Smith, St. Louis health director, said many people in his city heeded flu warnings and took inoculations which will lessen the disease's effect.

The Public Health Service in Washington took a sampling of 108 cities and said pneumonia-influenza deaths have been above the epidemic threshold for four weeks.

Especially vulnerable to flu, the service said, are the elderly, the chronically ill and pregnant women. The flu weakens them and, in many instances, makes them susceptible to pneumonia.

The service said Asian flu has been confirmed in Maryland, Kansas, Illinois, North Carolina and the District of Columbia. It has not been confirmed but is suspected strongly in Vermont, Maine, Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia.

Tragedy In Everglades

U.S. Probes Jet Crash Fatal To 43 In Florida

A-Test Ban Talks Slated In Privacy

U.S. Delegate To Meet Neutrals In New Geneva Effort

GENEVA (AP)—President Kennedy's chief disarmament negotiator began a series of private talks with neutral delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference today in an attempt to bring the main focus of the talks back to a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

U.S. delegate William C. Foster's first meeting was with Abdel Fattah Hassan of the United Arab Republic. He also scheduled talks with the Swedish and Nigerian delegations and with the delegates from Britain, Italy and Canada.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov surprised the delegates Tuesday with a proposal for a treaty banning the deployment of nuclear weapon systems in foreign lands and seas.

The proposal, unacceptable to the Western powers, overshadowed the test ban issue as the conference resumed after a two-month recess. Western delegates said Kuznetsov's proposal was a maneuver designed to draw attention away from Soviet stalling tactics in the test ban negotiations.

One Western official speculated that the proposal might have been designed to impress the Chinese Communists — who are not represented here — with the Soviet Union's intransigence. The official said Kuznetsov himself must have been fully aware that the West was certain to reject the proposal.

The next session of the conference is scheduled for Thursday.

CAB, FBI Seek Cause Of Disaster

Plummeted Into Swamp Soon After Takeoff At Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Charred remains of a jet airliner, which crashed deep in the Florida Everglades with 43 persons aboard, were studied today by federal investigators seeking a cause for the tragedy. There were no survivors.

Civil Aeronautics Board and FBI agents worked behind tight security measures, trying to learn why the Northwest Orient Airlines jet plummeted out of the sky Tuesday only minutes after leaving Miami for Chicago, Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore.

A planned helicopter airlift of bodies from the smoldering wreckage was delayed by the investigation.

Seminole Indian children were given a holiday as their school house, 50 miles west of Miami, at a place called Miccosukee, became a temporary morgue. The school also served as a CAB communications base.

The craft lost radio contact with Miami International Airport traffic control seven minutes after it took off in a rain squall at 1:35 p.m. Six and one-half hours elapsed before the fireswept wreck was sighted 43 miles southwest of Miami, in a search that covered the Southeast.

The move—which presidential aides have tried to keep under cover—parallels Kennedy's earlier successful public fight to retain the traffic-directing House Rules Committee at the membership level of 15 calculated to open the road for action on his program.

The first test vote on enlarging the Finance Committee to 19 will come at a closed meeting Thursday of the Senate Democratic Steering Committee. This group is headed by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

The outcome may depend on whether members vote by secret ballot. The administration holds a nominal 8-7 margin over seven Southern conservatives who could be expected to resist the placement of additional liberal party members on a committee previously dominated by a conservative Republican-Democratic coalition.

If the steering group should vote to expand the Finance Committee, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has promised to fight the action in the Senate. Presumably he would have almost solid Republican support, plus that of many conservative Democrats.

Dirksen is slated to fill a Republican vacancy on the Finance group. His opposition to enlargement of the committee may be somewhat compromised by his efforts to get the Senate Appropriations Committee expanded so that Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., will not lose his seat on that important group.

The President's action in stepping into the controversy was regarded in some quarters as a move to placate liberal Democrats who complained bitterly that he did not lift a hand for them in their vain effort to make it easier for the Senate to cut off filibusters.

If the President's men win their fight for enlargement of the committee, there will be a scramble for three Democratic places on it.

At least six Democrats have been mentioned in this connection, not all of them liberals.

West Virginia Legislature Extends Tax

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—With the sales tax issue disposed of for another year, the Legislature shifted its attention today to snake handling, the Marshall University building program and the amount of liquor that may be sold at one time by state stores.

By a 17-11 vote Tuesday the Senate passed and sent to Gov. Barron the third extension of the "temporary" increase in the retail sales tax, first passed two years ago.

The act will prolong through June 30, 1964, the boost from 2 to 3 per cent on sales above $1.

The Senate had voted last month to make the increase permanent. But the House wrote in another one-year cutoff on the increase, putting the measure in the form recommended by Barron.

By the same vote and with the same one-year cutoff, the Senate also passed and sent to the governor an extension of the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the use tax, a levy on articles bought out of state for use in West Virginia.

The House passed 66-33 and sent to the governor an act to continue another expiring tax increase, in this case permanently. This involved a hike from 2 to 3 per cent in the insurance premium tax, scheduled to die June 30.

An estimated $14.2 million in yearly revenue is involved in the three increases which will be continued under the three measures passed yesterday.

Among five bills up for Senate passage today was a measure to authorize issuance of up to $5.7 million worth of revenue bonds to be paid off from tuition fees to finance construction at Marshall University in Huntington.

With his date, Rita Morris of nearby Jacksonville, joining him for about 25 yards of his final 200-yard sprint, Bernath raced over the finish line to receive in person the congratulations of Maj. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman, commander of the 2nd Marine division.

Bernath wasn't even breathing hard. And he had time for a few words of advice to anyone who also might wish to spend the day hiking 50 miles.

"Stay in shape," Bernath said. "And get out from behind that desk."

Girl Given Probation In Slaying Case

BOSTON (AP)— Post-debutante Suzanne Clift, 21, was released today in 10 years probation after she was permitted to plead guilty to manslaughter in the death of her boyfriend.

Judge Lewis Goldberg imposed what he called one important condition of the probation—that Miss Cliff voluntarily "commit yourself to the Massachusetts Medical Health Center to accept such treatment and for such time as authorities there prescribe."

By her plea, Miss Clift admitted she shot and killed Piero Brentani, 27, born in Dresden, Germany, of an Italian father and a German mother who lived in Trieste. Both now reside in Zurich, Switzerland.

Brentani was found shot to death last Oct. 1 in the Beacon Hill apartment which Miss Clift's attorney said Brentani shared with Miss Clift.

Judge Goldberg accepted the recommendation of attorney Claude B. Cross, counsel for Miss Clift, in imposing the probation.

Cross pointed out Miss Clift is five months pregnant by Brentani and should be permitted to raise her child with love in a normal manner.

Seven Congressional 'Cuties' Start Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven cute young congressional secretaries set out walking today to prove the physical fitness of the legislative branch of government.

An Army jeep carrying a medic and a driver followed the girls up the old towpath of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

It was President Kennedy's challenge to the Marines to walk 50 miles in 20 hours that started the hiking craze.

Meeting of F.O.P.A. No. 26 to be held Fri., Feb. 15, 8 p.m., City Hall. Fred Winland, Pres.—Ad.

Bad Case Of Cold Feet

Marines, Girls Marching, But Not President's Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marines are marching. Girls are marching. Practically everyone seems to be marching. But Pierre Salinger is not marching.

He has a bad case of cold feet.

"I may be plucky, but I am not stupid," the President's plump press secretary announced Tuesday, and thus retired bowed but unbloodied from the New Frontier's sole-trying fitness course.

And so doing, he may have won a place in the hearts of all presidential assistants and the White House press corps. It was Salinger who had volunteered to pace them on a Friday hike along the C&O Canal.

With the leader gone, the expedition has collapsed, with many a sigh of relief.

But others go marching on, trying to prove themselves up to the 50-mile hike President Kennedy suggested to see if modern Marine officers were made of the same stuff they were in Teddy Roosevelt's day.

Lt. Donald L. Bernath was one Leatherneck who showed he was Tuesday night. He beat some 30 Camp Lejuene, N.C. Leathernecks across the finish line, with his girl friend sprinting the last 25 yards with him. He walked the 50-mile course in 11 hours and 44 minutes.

Some 10 young Capitol Hill secretaries plan to carry the colors of the legislative branch today in an assault on the old canal towpath. They are not trying to match the Leathernecks.

3 Killed, 9 Wounded In Logger Strike

Violence Erupts In Canada Following Weeks Of Tension

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (AP)—A strike that cut to the economic vitals of this bleak logging country has exploded, as many feared it would, into violence and death.

A spray of gunfire in the darkness, killing three strikers and wounding nine, climaxed four weeks of growing tension around this northern Ontario lumber center where delivery of a cord of wood can spell the difference between hunger and subsistence.

The tragey in the post-midnight hours of Monday morning had been building up since Jan. 14, when 1,500 union woodcutters stopped work to back up demands for a new contract with the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Co. and the Kimberly-Clark Pulp and Paper Co.

Efforts to settle the strike got nowhere. The company contended the strike was illegal because the union walked out while negotiations were in progress under a government mediator. The union said the men went out without authorization, frustrated by a lack of progress toward replacement of contract that expired 5½ months earlier.

The small provincial police detachment at Kapuskasing received 24 reinforcements, but they seemed unable to stop strikers from dumping wood from the settlers' trucks.

This was the situation as about 400 strikers in 80 cars pulled up to a private railway siding 37 miles west of here early Monday.

Gunfire burst from a hut where the settlers were camped. Twelve strikers were hit. Three died.

Police arrested settlers and gathered up 11 rifles, two shotguns and a revolver.

Rockefeller Spurs Bid In Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he "will leave no stone unturned to try to assist in bringing the parties together" in the printers' strike that led to the 68-day-old blackout of New York City's nine major newspapers.

Rockefeller made the statement Tuesday night to newsmen. He gave no clue to what action he might take.

Rockefeller, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Mayor Robert F. Wagner appointed an unofficial fact-finding panel of judges when the newspaper strike was a month old.

The panel filed a report which accused the printers of shutting down the papers and sitting back to await their surrender to union demands in the face of threatened extinction.

Occasional Light Snow Also Forecast After 2-Inch Fall

Occasional light snow was forecast today for the Tri-State District in the wake of the 2-inch fall of Tuesday that created hazardous driving conditions until road crews spread cinders.

Only scattered flurries were forecast for tonight but temperatures will turn colder with a low range of 8 to 14 expected. The colder trend will continue Thursday.

A biting wind accompanied the forenoon drop in temperature.

On Constitutional Convention

Legislature Urged To Ask Congress For Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two state senators want the Ohio Legislature to ask Congress for a constitutional convention to get a couple of matters settled.

Sen. Robert E. Zellar, R-Muskingum, wants a U.S. constitutional amendment to bar federal courts from consideration of state legislative apportionment disputes.

Sen. Tennyson Guyer, R-Findlay, wants a federal constitutional amendment which would permit two-thirds of the state legislatures to propose U.S. constitutional amendments of their own. Now, amendments may be proposed only by Congress or a constitutional convention. In any event, it still would require approval of three-fourths of the 50 legislatures (38) to ratify an amendment.

The Guyer and Zellar resolutions were offered while the House was passing and sending to the Senate a bill to ban the drinking of 3.2 beer in motor vehicles. The measure, approved 118-9, is aimed at youngsters 18 and up who are permitted by law to buy the so-called non-intoxicating brew.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to exempt from state sales tax prescriptions by dentists and chiropodist. Prescriptions by physicians already are tax-free.

A third House - approved bill practically would put big-city municipal courts on a par with common pleas courts by providing that appeals from municipal courts go directly to appellate courts, bypassing the common pleas.

Iraq's New Regime In Effective Control

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq's new military regime reportedly holds effective control of the oil-rich country although pockets of Communist resistance undoubtedly remain.

Baghdad, the capital, appears quiet and restrained, in sharp contrast to heavy firing which shook the city Monday night when National Guardsmen were rooting out the Reds.

Revolutionary President Abdel Salam Mohammed Aref on Tuesday let down the barriers which had barred foreign newsmen since the military revolt Feb. 8 overthrew Premier Abdel Karim Kassem. Two planeloads of correspondents arrived and received friendlier treatment than old hands remember under Kassem's suspicious regime.

Chamber Trustees Slate Dinner Meeting In March

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce agreed Tuesday afternoon that its next meeting Tuesday, March 12, will be in the form of an evening dinner, to which new committee chairmen will be invited.

It's a recently - instituted annual custom for the board to hold an evening dinner early in the new year and to invite the committee chairmen to outline their plans for the months ahead. Normally, the board holds its meetings at 4 in the afternoon at the Chamber office.

In other business, Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highway committee, reported the Board of Directors of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association has scheduled a "get-acquainted" meeting at a noon luncheon Tuesday, Feb. 26, at the Pick - Ohio Hotel in Youngstown.

Directors of the four - county association will confer with Earl W. Nelson, new head of the State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, and Clinton M. Newhall, newly - appointed head of the Division 4 office at Ravenna.

Atty. Lang and E. R. Chandler, executive manager, represented the Chamber at a meeting today at 10:30 a. m. in Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office in which Nelson and some of his aides were present to discuss a proposal for widening and eliminating curves on Lisbon St., a link in State Route 267.

William D. Ogilvie, president, outlined objectives for 1963 as approved by the Executive Board. Robert E. Boyce announced the names of new committee chairmen chosen by the Executive Board.

The Chamber said the names of the new committeemen and the list of objectives will be published in its February bulletin.

Chandler announced plans for a legislative conference arranged by the Ohio Chamber March 6-7 at Columbus for discussion of the legislative program of the General Assembly. The local Chamber expects to send a delegation.

John T. Hall reported on a "aircade" program of the U. S. Chamber held at Pittsburgh Friday, which a delegation of 12 attended from East Liverpool. The program concerned national legislation.

Alvin T. Babb, immediate past president, submitted a report for the industrial development committee. He discussed bills pending before the State Legislature to establish a new Department of Industrial Development in Ohio. Reviewing the provisions of the bills, he also told how the Chamber could co-operate in the program.

The board voted to accept the membership application of Wimmer Motor Sales, operated by Nick Wimmer. Further plans were discussed for the annual membership dinner meeting Feb. 20 at the Country Club.

The board approved a proposal to change Chandler's title from secretary - manager to executive manager, explaining it feels the new wording defines the duties more clearly.

A Ton Of Brotherhood

The gift of a ton of coal in Lawrenceville this week helped to undermine the 'big lie' of cynics and pessimists who claim that selfishness and evil are winning the never-ending battle with honesty, generosity and love of fellow man.

Human kindness and humor continue to be a vital part of our way of life. The friendly greeting of neighbors and fellow workers, the helpful hand for someone in need, the chuckle over a joke remain everyday occurrences.

Crime, international friction, tragedy, political controversies and oddities hold the spotlight in the news because the great majority of readers want it that way.

But there are hundreds of daily acts of goodness and cheer which actually are more meaningful to individual life.

The auxiliary of the Lawrenceville American Legion bought the ton of coal for a needy person, typifying the projects of various organizations which make our communities better places in which to live.

These offerings from the heart prove that goodness and fellowship are in the makeup of today's men, women and children. These actions are so commonplace, so routine, they lack the "news" interest of incongruous happenings which end up on page one.

12-Month School Use Makes Sense

Ohioans are urged from time to time to save public money by using school buildings throughout the calendar year. The idea makes sense.

A proposal in the General Assembly this term would give local boards the option of using a trisemester system — three four-month semesters, with pupils and teachers attending and working two semesters in each 12 months.

This would give taxpayers more use of school buildings and slow down demand for new construction. It would copy a trisemester plan getting close attention by college administrators trying to increase use of their facilities, to avoid raising huge sums of money for further expansion of physical plants already in either limited use or no use at all during summer vacation."

It is the "summer vacation" that blocks year-around use of school buildings. Any change that would substitute other "vacation" periods for the traditional "summer vacation" goes against the grain of custom.

This is so despite the fact many families in northern school districts now take "winter vacations" and withdraw children from school during the winter season.

It is so despite the fact many families have children in summer school, either by choice or necessity. It is so despite the fact not all teachers would make a strong point of limiting their vacations to the summer months.

Custom is a powerful force in these matters — stronger than logic, economic hardship, even stronger than the desire for the most efficient education money can buy and intelligence and dedication can make possible.

A trisemester school year or something like it will come eventually. Necessity will force it. But it will come first in voluntary colleges that must step up efficiency in the use of their buildings or perish from lack of funds — last in the case of tax-supported schools that will hesitate to change as long as they can raise tax funds to operate in the old, familiar groove.

The name of Asian flu leaves everything to be desired. It doesn't have a true ring — nothing to compare with German measles and Spanish influenza.

In the first place, it isn't specific enough. Asian flu could be Indian, Indonesian, Vietnamese, Pakistani, Japanese, Tibetan, Chinese or Malayan. It's too much territory.

In the second place, telling a patient he must stay in bed because he has Asian flu is like saying he has a mystery disease the medical profession hasn't come to grips with yet.

It's a bad name all around, and as long as it can be called anything we feel like calling it this is to urge that Asian flu be called —

Abyssinian flu.

Then it would amount to something when we get it — if we get it — and it would be easier to stay home in bed.

The Game's The Same

Whether Red China will have as much luck squeezing Yugoslavia out of the Internationale as France has had in squeezing Britain out of the Common Market is undetermined.

But there is a striking similarity in the two situations.

France has set itself against Britain, it will be recalled, because it doesn't think the British are sufficiently European in their present frame of mind. Many think it is aiming at British membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Thus it is aiming, in effect, at pro-Americans in British life and giving them a chance to think about their future—whether they might be happier in the long run if they veered toward Europe and away from the United States.

It is a move to create a political issue in the United Kingdom over British dependence on the United States or membership in a new European bloc dominated by France and including Germany, traditionally the enemy of both France and Britain.

In the same line of reasoning, Red China is inflaming what already is the hottest political issue in the Soviet Union.

Should the Russian government be dominated by men who want to get along with the West, or by men who want to get along with the East?

Is co-existence worth the loss of China's "friendship."

If Red Russia wants to get along with Red China, Mao Tse-tung has ruled, it will have to get rid of Yugoslavia.

If Britain wants to get along with France, Charles de Gaulle has ruled, it will have to get rid of the United States.

International pressure politics is played about the same on both sides of the street.

Only the names change, not the game.

Respect for international privacy is about to return to fashion, and it will require some understanding.

Otherwise, the United States will be bulldozed into the stupid isolationism that almost destroyed it in the past. It reacted from its close call with an excess of buttinsky behavior that earned resentment all over the world.

Don't let glowing reports of special commissions and influential personalities fudge the problem this has created. They always sing the same theme song: Everybody is grateful.

But they're grateful only for the welath showered on them—not for the source of the wealth, the way it was showered, or the thought behind it. They hate the buttinsky Americans.

They would rather bite the hand that feeds them than lick it, and whenever they have a chance they take a nip at it.

As indebted as they are for being helped over a rough spot by the U.S. giveaway policy, they did not relish being moved in on because they needed help. They were not offering themselves for sale.

They are aware of something, moreover, they never see mentioned in news from the United States—that some of the stuff this country ostensibly was giving away was a subsidy paid by its own taxpayers for exports to keep the wheels turning and the surpluses from piling up here at home.

They also are bugged by something they see mentioned all the time—that the stuff they received was incidental to an effort to beat down international Communism. The United States did not love them; it just hated Communism.

So now it is coming out day by day that they do not love the United States and wish the Yankees would go home. This is the next shock coming; it will cause shrieks of pain.

It's time again to line out the differences in three attitudes toward other nations.

Isolation is what happens when there might be somebody in the bathroom but because of excessive timidity no one will rap on the closed door to find out.

Intervention, which is what the United States has been doing, is excessive brashness. In this instance, the bathroom is occupied but, instead of taking the hint from the closed door, or the precaution of knocking, the buttinsky bulls his way in.

The third attitude about the bathroom—the one about to return to fashion—is to assume that whoever might be in it is entitled to privacy. Everything possible must be done to guarantee this.

This is what some of the other international tenants would like to have restored to them, as far as the United States is concerned. They don't like to look up and see Uncle Sam peeking at them any better than they like to see Uncle Nikita.

They want to live their own lives. Their gratitude for favors does not include being dominated by their benefactor. If the idea was to put them back on their feet, they want to stand on them.

They would rather not put a sign on the door that says "Stay Out." They would rather assume the United States will knock before entering and, unless invited, will go away.

This and That

The fastest-flying bird in the world is generally conceded to be the frigate bird of the American tropics. Its speed has been estimated at over 200 m.p.h. Of all birds, it has the greatest plane area in proportion to weight, and its plumage and pectoral muscles make up at least 47 per cent of its total body weight. In flight, its six-foot wingspan and deeply forked tail make a handsome sight.

Although the state of Alaska is about 480 times larger than the state of Rhode Island, it contains only about one-tenth as many people.

Kennedy Has Strike Crisis Answer

By Victor Riesel

Only a handful of men know that President Kennedy does have a technique for ending long and tough strikes. He's never used the formula though twice he was about to move. But each time the crisis collapsed before the country did.

Victor Riesel

Each time his front man was Sen. Wayne Morse, one of the land's most knowledgeable labor specialists, one of labor's closest friends and former dean of the Law School at the University of Oregon.

The formula basically is simple. Give the labor men and strike leaders all the leeway possible. Then when the strike begins to hurt the country nationally and internationally, prepare a law which will break that specific strike by compulsory arbitration.

FOR THE FIRST time it can be told that this technique was used last summer.

Then there was turbulence in the air. The flight engineers, some of whom still are running a desultory phantom strike against Eastern Airlines, threatened to disrupt national and international U. S. commercial aviation.

There was a possibility that all of our major airports would be picketed, thus perhaps grounding not only our own but the international lines as well, if they flew into the United States.

This came at the height of the tourist season. Tens of millions of dollars, vital to our national balance of payments, would have been lost.

Through sleepless nights Arthur Goldberg and virtually every other labor specialist tried to make peace. The flight engineers would not have it.

Mr. Goldberg, then secretary of labor, spoke to President Kennedy. Then the Cabinet member called Wayne Morse and asked him to introduce a bill which would give the President some really tough power with which to clobber. Morse did just that.

ON JUNE 19, virtually unobserved by the public, Morse put his bill in the docket. This is an important bill to study because it had the President's approval.

Morse, in effect, called on Congress to give the President the right to take possession of the business enterprise, or enterprises, involved in the dispute.

If possible the President would work through the existing management. Or, through a series of complex moves and special board decisions he could have his board issue binding awards.

This would have been compulsory arbitration by any other name.

After deciding which course he would go, the President would be required to submit his action to Congress.

Then, during the next 10 days, either the House or the Senate would veto the President's decisions. If neither did, the action would be law. The union would have 10 days more to return to work — then there would be seizure or compulsory arbitration.

The bill never was pushed because most of the flight engineers returned to work under a formula which gave them either jobs in the cockpit or big chunks of severance pay.

NO ONE could charge the President with being anti-labor or a strike breaker. Was it not Morse, friend of labor, strong favorite of Oregon's militant unions for years, who introduced the bill. Now, in the new Congress the bill is dead. But it could be reintroduced.

Soon afterward the Longshoremen's crisis stirred troubled waters. A strike was averted by an 80-day Taft Hartley cooling-off injunction.

But only the weather cooled off. The President felt strongly about the resumption of this strike. If it had continued he would have had to go to Congress and be the first chief executive to make a report on a walkout which resumed after the cooling-off.

Longshoremen's leader Teddy Gleason was in the shower on the morning of Sunday, Dec. 23, when the phone rang. His son answered. Gleason thought it was a gag. But it was the President asking that the walkout not be revived. Gleason said he had to turn him down.

ONCE MORE the White House turned to Wayne Morse. After some weeks of the costly billion-dollar strike, Morse's people began drafting a bill. It was to be so skillfully written that it could clobber only the waterfront people, though it would appear to cover all industry.

Thus it would have taken the President off the hook. Morse would have taken full responsibility. With his background he could not be called anti-labor.

But the bill would do the trick without opening the door to amendments which would clobber all labor in all industries.

Since the new law would have been needed quickly, Congress would probably have passed it without the conservatives having a chance to toughen the general labor law.

The strike is over. But the technique lingers on. You'll see it in other crises — of which there will be plenty.

'Talking Books'

Tucked away in an obscure corner of Washington's Library of Congress is a small government unit whose job is to brighten a darkened world.

This unit, the Division for the Blind, was set up under a 1931 act of Congress. Its staff selects books and magazines for transcription into braille, talking - book records, or magnetic tape. The material is mailed to eligible persons throughout the United States and outlying territories. Even American citizens temporarily living abroad are entitled to the service if they meet requirements.

To be eligible, an applicant need only submit proof of having no more than 20/200 vision, with correction. The reading matter is free. If needed, a machine will be lent to play the discs or tapes.

The division distributes its reading materials through 31 regional libraries. Of these, 27 are now sending braille publications regularly to some 12,000 blind or partially blind persons. In addition, nearly 65,000 people receive the "talking books".

Recipients range in age from 5 to 100. Since the interests of the blind are much the same as those of the sighted, the libraries offer mysteries, poetry and Westerns, Shakespearean plays and the Bible, natural history, biography, archeology, animal stories, fairy tales and space-age fact and fiction.

Invitation To War

By David Lawrence

Fear Of Conflict Seen Danger To Freedom

Paradoxical as it may seem, the greatest danger of war today is the constant expression of a fear of war.

David Lawrence

The sacrifice of principle to expediency in the past — a readiness by one side to yield to the terror of war — has led to miscalculation and misjudgment by the other side and has brought war just the same.

It is for this reason that a close analysis of what the President of the United States has been saying lately about world policy in terms of the Cuban situation is essential to an understanding of the dangers that lie ahead.

One must start with the feeling that Mr. Kennedy is a sincere, conscientious public servant who wants to avoid a war. But so were some of his predecessors who nevertheless found themselves in a war because an impression appeared to prevail in this country that anything is better than war.

In many countries, moreover, one even hears nowadays some prominent persons crying out, "better red than dead."

The policy of the United States government is based at present not on a fear of war as such but on a belief that war can be avoided and yet no compromise on principle made. In official circles, however, there is a constant repetition of expressions on fear of war.

This could lead to misjudgment in the camp of our adversaries. The other day on television a commentator read to some congressmen an extract from what Mr. Kennedy had said, and then, in effect, bluntly asked them, "Now, do you want war?"

THE PRESIDENT himself, of course, has not closed the door to the possibility of a major war arising out of Soviet deception and military operations in Cuba. In his last news conference, as he discussed the important of being certain about our information concerning missiles, he said:

"Now, as I say, these things may all come about and we may find ourselves again with the Soviet Union toe to toe, but we ought to know what we have in our hands before we bring the United States — and ask our allies to come with us — to the brink again."

Later on in the conference, Mr. Kennedy came back to the same theme — the possibility of an external action by the United States to get rid of the Communist base in Cuba. He said:

"We live with a lot of dangerous situations all over the world. Berlin is one. There are many others. And we live with a good deal of hazard all around the world and have for 15 years. I cannot set down any time in which I can clearly see the end to the Castro regime. I believe it is going to come, but I couldn't possibly give a time limit. I think that those who do, sometimes mislead.

"I remember a good deal of talk in the early '50s about liberation, how Eastern Europe was going to be liberated. Then we had Hungary and Poland and East Germany, and no action was taken. And the reason the action wasn't taken was because they felt strongly, if they did take action, it would bring on another war.

"So it is quite easy to discuss these things and say one thing or another ought to be done. But when they start talking about how, and when they start talking about Americans invading Cuba and killing thousands of Cubans and Americans, with all the hazards around the world, that is a very serious decision, and I notice that that is not approached directly by a good many who have discussed the problem."

THESE WORDS of a president are read everywhere, including Moscow. Do these utterances mean that, unless this country is directly attacked, a resolute stand will not be taken by the United States, even if it means war?

The Soviet government may ponder that question, for it never stops testing its adversaries.

Mr. Kennedy stood firm last October, but questions have arisen now as to what will be done by the United States about the continued presence in Cuba of 17,000 military men from the Soviet Union.

The critics have helped by bringing this issue to a head.

The reason, to be sure, why nothing was done in Hungary and Eastern Europe is that the West lost its nerve.

The Soviets knew the West wouldn't dare to go the limit to uphold the principles of the United Nations Charter and protect the oppressed peoples who sought to assert their independence only to find the Soviet armies overwhelming them by force.

YET IN 1950, collective action by the U.N. saved Korea and repelled aggression. Many American boys died in that cause, as indeed some Americans have been killed recently in South Viet Nam to check Communist infiltration of an independent country.

Neglect of Hungary led to the assertion of Soviet arrogance in East Berlin. Now, if the United States — despite all its outward show of firmness — should really lean to a policy of peace at any price in Cuba or anywhere else, there could finally be a provocation to war.

Winston Churchill, after World War II was over, wrote of the mistakes of the 1930s:

"Still, if you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed; if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly; you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival.

"There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves."

Britain's Future

By Russell Taylor

LONDON

Britain sees no economic alternative to the Common Market.

This is why the government has tried to play down any signs of incipient Francophobia or anti-Europeanism. Both the government and British industry think that Britain will join the Common Market: until that day, the links have to be maintained.

No one takes the French proposal for Britain to "associate" with The Six seriously. No one one quite knows what the French mean by association and the French have been unwilling to commit themselves. It would certainly be unattractive, both politically and economically.

One French spokesman did say that if full membership of The Six was like a "made to measure" suit, then association was an "off the rack suit." The British feel that it would be a most uncomfortable fit.

The government is now looking for alternative policies that will do for the British economy what it was hoped membership of the Common Market would do more quickly and less painfully.

It seems to be agreed that more competition is needed within the British economy.

Furthermore, as one of the leading trading countries in the world, any moves towards freer trade benefits Britain. So the government seems certain to put as much pressure as it can behind the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) and the forthcoming "Kennedy" round of tariff cuts—to reduce obstacles to the growth of world trade. Through the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, it will push for more vigorous and coordinated world economic expansion.

Domestically, Prime Minister Macmillan's government will redouble its efforts to expand production. It already has accepted the 4 per cent growth rate for the economy put forward by the National Economic Development Council (NEDDIE) and the failure at Brussels seems certain to increase "Neddie's" influence over the economy.

The government is determined that there shall not be another 1957 or 1961—when thoughtless economic policies resulted in balance of payment difficulties, and a 7 per cent Bank rate, as well as severe cutbacks in public investment.

This means that the government must press on with its ideas for a wages and incomes policy —which will prevent British industrial costs becoming uncompetitive compared with those of other countries.

And the government must also be prepared to be much more radical in its attempts to enlist support for the pound sterling in world currency markets.

A Ton Of Brotherhood

The gift of a ton of coal in Lawrenceville this week helped to undermine the 'big lie' of cynics and pessimists who claim that selfishness and evil are winning the never-ending battle with honesty, generosity and love of fellow man.

Human kindness and humor continue to be a vital part of our way of life. The friendly greeting of neighbors and fellow workers, the helpful hand for someone in need, the chuckle over a joke remain everyday occurrences.

Crime, international friction, tragedy, political controversies and oddities hold the spotlight in the news because the great majority of readers want it that way.

But there are hundreds of daily acts of goodness and cheer which actually are more meaningful to individual life.

The auxiliary of the Lawrenceville American Legion bought the ton of coal for a needy person, typifying the projects of various organizations which make our communities better places in which to live.

These offerings from the heart prove that goodness and fellowship are in the makeup of today's men, women and children. These actions are so commonplace, so routine, they lack the "news" interest of incongruous happenings which end up on page one.

But only the weather cooled off. The President felt strongly about the resumption of this strike. If it had continued he would have had to go to Congress and be the first chief executive to make a report on a walkout which resumed after the cooling-off.

Longshoremen's leader Teddy Gleason was in the shower on the morning of Sunday, Dec. 23, when the phone rang. His son answered. Gleason thought it was a gag. But it was the President asking that the walkout not be revived. Gleason said he had to turn him down.

ONCE MORE the White House turned to Wayne Morse. After some weeks of the costly billion-dollar strike, Morse's people began drafting a bill. It was to be so skillfully written that it could clobber only the waterfront people, though it would appear to cover all industry.

Thus it would have taken the President off the hook. Morse would have taken full responsibility. With his background he could not be called anti-labor.

But the bill would do the trick without opening the door to amendments which would clobber all labor in all industries.

Since the new law would have been needed quickly, Congress would probably have passed it without the conservatives having a chance to toughen the general labor law.

The strike is over. But the technique lingers on. You'll see it in other crises — of which there will be plenty.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The 49th anniversary of the founding of the Salvation Army was observed at the W. 3rd St. Citadel.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Donald R. Moore of Jennings Ave. was promoted to petty officer and was placed in charge of Galley 7 at Camp Bradford, Norfolk, Va.

The annual YMCA - Boy Scout joint fund drive "went over the top" with pledges totaling $16,825 — $808 more than the goal.

A service honor roll containing the names of 28 men was dedicated at the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — Edward J. Barrett, chief of the Midland Fire Department for 23 years, resigned.

The final report of Chester's March of Dimes showed $1,574, according to Charles Anderson and Leland Fowler, co-chairmen.

'Talking Books'

Tucked away in an obscure corner of Washington's Library of Congress is a small government unit whose job is to brighten a darkened world.

This unit, the Division for the Blind, was set up under a 1931 act of Congress. Its staff selects books and magazines for transcription into braille, talking - book records, or magnetic tape. The material is mailed to eligible persons throughout the United States and outlying territories. Even American citizens temporarily living abroad are entitled to the service if they meet requirements.

To be eligible, an applicant need only submit proof of having no more than 20/200 vision, with correction. The reading matter is free. If needed, a machine will be lent to play the discs or tapes.

The division distributes its reading materials through 31 regional libraries. Of these, 27 are now sending braille publications regularly to some 12,000 blind or partially blind persons. In addition, nearly 65,000 people receive the "talking books".

Recipients range in age from 5 to 100. Since the interests of the blind are much the same as those of the sighted, the libraries offer mysteries, poetry and Westerns, Shakespearean plays and the Bible, natural history, biography, archeology, animal stories, fairy tales and space-age fact and fiction.

Invitation To War

By David Lawrence

Fear Of Conflict Seen Danger To Freedom

Paradoxical as it may seem, the greatest danger of war today is the constant expression of a fear of war.

David Lawrence

The sacrifice of principle to expediency in the past — a readiness by one side to yield to the terror of war — has led to miscalculation and misjudgment by the other side and has brought war just the same.

It is for this reason that a close analysis of what the President of the United States has been saying lately about world policy in terms of the Cuban situation is essential to an understanding of the dangers that lie ahead.

One must start with the feeling that Mr. Kennedy is a sincere, conscientious public servant who wants to avoid a war. But so were some of his predecessors who nevertheless found themselves in a war because an impression appeared to prevail in this country that anything is better than war.

In many countries, moreover, one even hears nowadays some prominent persons crying out, "better red than dead."

The policy of the United States government is based at present not on a fear of war as such but on a belief that war can be avoided and yet no compromise on principle made. In official circles, however, there is a constant repetition of expressions on fear of war.

This could lead to misjudgment in the camp of our adversaries. The other day on television a commentator read to some congressmen an extract from what Mr. Kennedy had said, and then, in effect, bluntly asked them, "Now, do you want war?"

THE PRESIDENT himself, of course, has not closed the door to the possibility of a major war arising out of Soviet deception and military operations in Cuba. In his last news conference, as he discussed the important of being certain about our information concerning missiles, he said:

"Now, as I say, these things may all come about and we may find ourselves again with the Soviet Union toe to toe, but we ought to know what we have in our hands before we bring the United States — and ask our allies to come with us — to the brink again."

Later on in the conference, Mr. Kennedy came back to the same theme — the possibility of an external action by the United States to get rid of the Communist base in Cuba. He said:

"We live with a lot of dangerous situations all over the world. Berlin is one. There are many others. And we live with a good deal of hazard all around the world and have for 15 years. I cannot set down any time in which I can clearly see the end to the Castro regime. I believe it is going to come, but I couldn't possibly give a time limit. I think that those who do, sometimes mislead.

"I remember a good deal of talk in the early '50s about liberation, how Eastern Europe was going to be liberated. Then we had Hungary and Poland and East Germany, and no action was taken. And the reason the action wasn't taken was because they felt strongly, if they did take action, it would bring on another war.

"So it is quite easy to discuss these things and say one thing or another ought to be done. But when they start talking about how, and when they start talking about Americans invading Cuba and killing thousands of Cubans and Americans, with all the hazards around the world, that is a very serious decision, and I notice that that is not approached directly by a good many who have discussed the problem."

THESE WORDS of a president are read everywhere, including Moscow. Do these utterances mean that, unless this country is directly attacked, a resolute stand will not be taken by the United States, even if it means war?

The Soviet government may ponder that question, for it never stops testing its adversaries.

Mr. Kennedy stood firm last October, but questions have arisen now as to what will be done by the United States about the continued presence in Cuba of 17,000 military men from the Soviet Union.

The critics have helped by bringing this issue to a head.

The reason, to be sure, why nothing was done in Hungary and Eastern Europe is that the West lost its nerve.

The Soviets knew the West wouldn't dare to go the limit to uphold the principles of the United Nations Charter and protect the oppressed peoples who sought to assert their independence only to find the Soviet armies overwhelming them by force.

YET IN 1950, collective action by the U.N. saved Korea and repelled aggression. Many American boys died in that cause, as indeed some Americans have been killed recently in South Viet Nam to check Communist infiltration of an independent country.

Neglect of Hungary led to the assertion of Soviet arrogance in East Berlin. Now, if the United States — despite all its outward show of firmness — should really lean to a policy of peace at any price in Cuba or anywhere else, there could finally be a provocation to war.

Winston Churchill, after World War II was over, wrote of the mistakes of the 1930s:

"Still, if you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed; if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly; you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival.

"There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves."

Britain's Future

By Russell Taylor

LONDON

Britain sees no economic alternative to the Common Market.

This is why the government has tried to play down any signs of incipient Francophobia or anti-Europeanism. Both the government and British industry think that Britain will join the Common Market: until that day, the links have to be maintained.

No one takes the French proposal for Britain to "associate" with The Six seriously. No one one quite knows what the French mean by association and the French have been unwilling to commit themselves. It would certainly be unattractive, both politically and economically.

One French spokesman did say that if full membership of The Six was like a "made to measure" suit, then association was an "off the rack suit." The British feel that it would be a most uncomfortable fit.

The government is now looking for alternative policies that will do for the British economy what it was hoped membership of the Common Market would do more quickly and less painfully.

It seems to be agreed that more competition is needed within the British economy.

Furthermore, as one of the leading trading countries in the world, any moves towards freer trade benefits Britain. So the government seems certain to put as much pressure as it can behind the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) and the forthcoming "Kennedy" round of tariff cuts—to reduce obstacles to the growth of world trade. Through the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, it will push for more vigorous and coordinated world economic expansion.

Domestically, Prime Minister Macmillan's government will redouble its efforts to expand production. It already has accepted the 4 per cent growth rate for the economy put forward by the National Economic Development Council (NEDDIE) and the failure at Brussels seems certain to increase "Neddie's" influence over the economy.

The government is determined that there shall not be another 1957 or 1961—when thoughtless economic policies resulted in balance of payment difficulties, and a 7 per cent Bank rate, as well as severe cutbacks in public investment.

This means that the government must press on with its ideas for a wages and incomes policy —which will prevent British industrial costs becoming uncompetitive compared with those of other countries.

And the government must also be prepared to be much more radical in its attempts to enlist support for the pound sterling in world currency markets.

Donald Myers Will Succeed Floyd Lower As Farm Agent

LISBON — Donald Myers, Columbiana County extension agent for agriculture, will succeed Floyd Lower, veteran county extension agent who is retiring this month.

Myers, 28, resides at 212 Pritchard Ave., Lisbon, with wife and three children. He spent his early life on farm near West Salem in Wayne County and was graduated from North Western High School in 1952 and from Ohio State University in 1956 with a B.S. degree in agriculture.

He came to Columbiana County in June 1956 as 4-H agent, becoming county agent in agriculture Oct. 1, 1959, and will be Columbiana County agent in agriculture succeeding Lower March 1.

A recognition program will honor Lower, agent in Columbiana County for 38 years, at Crestview High School March 26.

A number of friends and fellow workers will speak at the program, including Mrs. Irma Ramseyer Johnson of Burton who was county home economics agent in 1939 - 44, and Wilbur B. Wood, Ohio director of the Agriculture Extension Service.

Also on the program will be John Strasbaugh, Trumbull County farm agent who was Lower's associate in 1936-44; C. A. Haas, Northeast Ohio extension supervisor, and C. M. Ferguson of the University of Wisconsin, who worked with Lower as a poultry specialist and in state and federal extension posts.

County Commissioner Galen Greenisen will review county extension activities under Lower's directorship, and Chester Roof of Salem will be master of ceremonies.

The dinner has been planned by the County Extension Advisory Council, headed by Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown.

Mrs. Carl Gamble of Winona, president of the County Home Demonstration Council, and her committee will be in charge of refreshments.

Prior to the Crestview program, Lower will have dinner at Timberlane's at Salem with 4-H and home economics agents with whom he has worked the past 38 years.

Rhodes Gratified By State Staffs' Work On Holiday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes says he is gratified by the voluntary response of state employes to work on Lincoln's Birthday anniversary

The governor issued a statement Tuesday saying "many offices had full staff and the attendance could well be estimated in excess of 95 per cent."

Rhodes said further that the voluntary showup "demonstrates that most state employes are as concerned about the state's operating efficiency as the elected officials.

"Our gratitude goes out to all those employes for their wonderful cooperations."

Although it appeared most state workers showed up in state offices, most employes in the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation were given the day off by outgoing Administrator Donald B. Leach.

Director Given Names For 2 Firemen's Jobs

The names of four men who topped a Civil Service Commission examination Jan. 30 have been certified to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen, who will choose two to fill vacancies on the fire department.

Listed in the order in which they ranked in the test, they are: Richard Enochs, 938 Lisbon St.; William T. Kerr, 2023 St. Clair Ave.; James H. Allmon, 322 E. 3rd St., and Larry A. Tullis, No. 9 Valley Trailer Court.

The commission announced the test result Jan. 31. Eight received passing scores out of a field of 12. The top four then were asked to complete physical examinations before the names were certified. Recent retirement of two veterans created the vacancies on the fire department.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: We have found out recently that you can apply cornstarch or baking soda (and for goodness sakes pour it on dry) on some spots on your carpets, rub it in gently with your vacuum cleaner.

This is especially good if the spot contains oils or butter fats (such as cream).

This is not a letter of laughter but thought that you should share in the "roar" we had when we read the letter that came in last week from a woman who wrote that she was mad at me and would never read the column again. . . .

She said that she went out and bought 16 boxes of cornstarch (after finding out that it took a spot off her rug that had been there a long time) and literally held each box waist-high and sprinkled it over her entire five-room apartment! Now she is mad at me because she had to dust all of her furniture!

Don't hold cornstarch or baking soda waist-high when you dab some of this powdered stuff on your rug. Naturally you will have to dust!

Just apply a little bit of it to the spots and rub it in with your fingers and leave overnight. That's all there is to it.

And I do hope you don't mind my sticking my head in your door this day? While that pot of coffee is perking this morning, think of me as I will be wishing I could be right there with you.

Love always,
HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: Once I bought a huge turkey. It was too large to hold over a flame and singe the fine hairs off and the blamed thing was covered with them. Well, after an hour of picking, singeing and two scorched fingers, I finally got disgusted. I took an old safety razor and cleaned it extra good and put a new blade in it and just shaved that old bird!

MRS. E.H.H.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep meat loaf from cracking while baking by dipping my hand in cold water and rubbing the top of the meat until it is smooth before putting it in the oven.

RUBY PERISH.

DEAR HELOISE: We solved the problem of getting our children to eat (we have five boys) at mealtime. When they refuse to clean up their plates they were not allowed after-school snacks the next day. This was not just a threat. It was actually carried out!

It did not take long to make our children realize that they had to "toe-the-mark" at mealtime.

A. CECCAWESE.

DEAR HELOISE: I recently moved into a new home with a built-in kitchen dinette nook.

I found that I could keep the back part of the dinette set clean (where the seat cushion meets the back cushion) by using a rubber or plastic cake spatula. Just run the spatula along and into the crevices and all crumbs come out easily. The crumbs, I then pick up with a damp dish cloth.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: We have found out recently that you can apply cornstarch or baking soda (and for goodness sakes pour it on dry) on some spots on your carpets, rub it in gently with your vacuum cleaner.

This is especially good if the spot contains oils or butter fats (such as cream).

This is not a letter of laughter but thought that you should share in the "roar" we had when we read the letter that came in last week from a woman who wrote that she was mad at me and would never read the column again. . .

She said that she went out and bought 16 boxes of cornstarch (after finding out that it took a spot off her rug that had been there a long time) and literally held each box waist-high and sprinkled it over her entire five-room apartment! Now she is mad at me because she had to dust all of her furniture!

Don't hold cornstarch or baking soda waist-high when you dab some of this powdered stuff on your rug. Naturally you will have to dust!

Just apply a little bit of it to the spots and rub it in with your fingers and leave overnight. That's all there is to it.

And I do hope you don't mind my sticking my head in your door this day? While that pot of coffee is perking this morning, think of me as I will be wishing I could be right there with you.

Love always,
HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: Once I bought a huge turkey. It was too large to hold over a flame and singe the fine hairs off and the blamed thing was covered with them. Well, after an hour of picking, singeing and two scorched fingers, I finally got disgusted. I took an old safety razor and cleaned it extra good and put a new blade in it and just shaved that old bird!

MRS. E.H.H.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep meat loaf from cracking while baking by dipping my hand in cold water and rubbing the top of the meat until it is smooth before putting it in the oven.

RUBY PERISH.

DEAR HELOISE: We solved the problem of getting our children to eat (we have five boys) at mealtime. When they refuse to clean up their plates they were not allowed after-school snacks the next day. This was not just a threat. It was actually carried out!

It did not take long to make our children realize that they had to "toe-the-mark" at mealtime.

A. CECCAWESE.

DEAR HELOISE: I recently moved into a new home with a built-in kitchen dinette nook.

I found that I could keep the back part of the dinette set clean (where the seat cushion meets the back cushion) by using a rubber or plastic cake spatula. Just run the spatula along and into the crevices and all crumbs come out easily. The crumbs, I then pick up with a damp dish cloth.

DOROTHY COPEC.

Police Cite Store's Manager In Sidewalk Display Of Tires

The manager of an E. 5th St. store was given a suspended $25 fine today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge filed by police Tuesday alleging he violated a section of the City Code by displaying tires and other merchandise on the sidewalk for sale.

John J. Fearon, 30, of 1615 Brandon Dr., Wellsville, manager of the Firestone Store at E. 5th and Walnut Sts., pleaded guilty to the affidavit signed by Patrolman William A. Devon. He was ordered to pay the $7.50 costs.

But Fearon told the judge the merchandise was placed on the sidewalk while store personnel was in the process of moving new stock into the store. He denied, in effect, that the goods on the sidewalk were being offered for sale.

Police said Fearon was cited at 11 a. m. Tuesday by Patrolman William A. Devon under Section 616 of the City Code, titled: "Selling or exhibiting goods, etc., on sidewalks."

Patrolman Devon reported to the court he received a complaint at 10:23 a. m. that merchandise was displayed on the sidewalk in front of the Firestone Store. Investigating, he found new tires "and other merchandise there," he reported.

The officer also reported that the store personnel were warned Monday at 4:32 p. m. "and told not to put it out again, but they put it out again in the morning."

Fearon told the court the store had received a new shipment of goods which had to be moved inside. In the process, the tires were moved outside to the sidewalk to make room for uncrating and storing the new merchandise, he said. He admitted he had been warned previously by police for alleged violation of the ordinance.

"I can understand this occurring in isolated cases," the judge told Fearon. "But I'm given to understand you were warned about it and you still went ahead and did it deliberately."

"I want to warn you that the next time this occurs the court won't look on it with favor," the judge said. Then he ordered the suspended fine for Fearon and told him to pay the costs.

Weather

Dam recorded 20. The day's high will range between 20 and 25—"snowing weather."

Schools of the area remained in session today as the snow was not heavy enough to interfere with bus travel and temperatures were relatively mild. Deeper snow and severe weather forced suspension of classes at many buildings in recent storms.

Gaylord Zellars, State Highway Department division superintendent serving temporarily at the Leetonia garage, said cindering crews returned to the county's state routes this morning. The 16 crews cindered main roads Tuesday and started on secondary roads today. Most crews finished about 5 p. m. yesterday with some in the East Liverpool area working until later last night. Two crews remained out on the customary night patrol.

Zellars said the snow averaged about 2 inches with a lighter fall on the west side of the county, while nearby Mahoning County had hardly more than an inch. The dam said it recorded an accumulation of 4 inches. The snow was generally heavier farther down the Ohio Valley. In contrast, the Damascus area had very little.

Area roads remained slippery today, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said, but no accidents had been reported.

Bar Patron Hurt In Fall Off Stool

Paul R. Hummel Jr., 32, of West Sunbury, Pa., was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night shortly after 10 for a laceration above the right eye suffered in a fall off a bar stool at the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave., police reported.

Patrolman David K. Mumaw reported he was dispatched to the tavern to investigate the man's injury. He said he found Hummel unconscious and bleeding freely about the face. Taken to the hospital in an ambulance, Hummel was treated and then released to police, who charged him with intoxication. Hummel told police he could not recall how he was injured.

Hummel, pleading guilty, was fined $10 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. The fine was suspended on payment of the $7.50 costs.

Astronauts, Wives Together First Time

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The nation's 16 astronauts and their wives got together for the first time at an informal buffet supper last weekend, the John H. Glenns said Tuesday.

The supper was held at the Glenn home.

"No one was missing," said Glenn, the first American to make an orbital flight. "It was sort of a first for all of us—the first time we 16 fellows and our wives have been together for such a very informal and enjoyable evening."

Just Like Old Santa, Man Says Of Money

SCHUYLERVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Milton Larmon suddenly has acquired $12,000 from unexpected sources.

A man recently handed the 78-year-old house-mover a check for $8,485 and explained it was payment and interest on a $5,000 house-moving job Larmon did 11 years ago.

Next, Larmon received a $3,246 check from Social Security, with an explanation that he had been underpaid and the money represented an adjustment.

"It was just like old Santa Claus," Larmon said.

Police Cite Store's Manager In Sidewalk Display Of Tires

The manager of an E. 5th St. store was given a suspended $25 fine today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge filed by police Tuesday alleging he violated a section of the City Code by displaying tires and other merchandise on the sidewalk for sale.

John J. Fearon, 30, of 1615 Brandon Dr., Wellsville, manager of the Firestone Store at E. 5th and Walnut Sts., pleaded guilty to the affidavit signed by Patrolman William A. Devon. He was ordered to pay the $7.50 costs.

But Fearon told the judge the merchandise was placed on the sidewalk while store personnel was in the process of moving new stock into the store. He denied, in effect, that the goods on the sidewalk were being offered for sale.

Police said Fearon was cited at 11 a. m. Tuesday by Patrolman William A. Devon under Section 616 of the City Code, titled: "Selling or exhibiting goods, etc., on sidewalks."

Patrolman Devon reported to the court he received a complaint at 10:23 a. m. that merchandise was displayed on the sidewalk in front of the Firestone Store. Investigating, he found new tires "and other merchandise there," he reported.

The officer also reported that the store personnel were warned Monday at 4:32 p. m. "and told not to put it out again, but they put it out again in the morning."

Fearon told the court the store had received a new shipment of goods which had to be moved inside. In the process, the tires were moved outside to the sidewalk to make room for uncrating and storing the new merchandise, he said. He admitted he had been warned previously by police for alleged violation of the ordinance.

"I can understand this occurring in isolated cases," the judge told Fearon. "But I'm given to understand you were warned about it and you still went ahead and did it deliberately."

"I want to warn you that the next time this occurs the court won't look on it with favor," the judge said. Then he ordered the suspended fine for Fearon and told him to pay the costs.

Weather

Dam recorded 20. The day's high will range between 20 and 25—"snowing weather."

Schools of the area remained in session today as the snow was not heavy enough to interfere with bus travel and temperatures were relatively mild. Deeper snow and severe weather forced suspension of classes at many buildings in recent storms.

Gaylord Zellars, State Highway Department division superintendent serving temporarily at the Leetonia garage, said cindering crews returned to the county's state routes this morning. The 16 crews cindered main roads Tuesday and started on secondary roads today. Most crews finished about 5 p. m. yesterday with some in the East Liverpool area working until later last night. Two crews remained out on the customary night patrol.

Zellars said the snow averaged about 2 inches with a lighter fall on the west side of the county, while nearby Mahoning County had hardly more than an inch. The dam said it recorded an accumulation of 4 inches. The snow was generally heavier farther down the Ohio Valley. In contrast, the Damascus area had very little.

Area roads remained slippery today, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said, but no accidents had been reported.

Bar Patron Hurt In Fall Off Stool

Paul R. Hummel Jr., 32, of West Sunbury, Pa., was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night shortly after 10 for a laceration above the right eye suffered in a fall off a bar stool at the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave., police reported.

Patrolman David K. Mumaw reported he was dispatched to the tavern to investigate the man's injury. He said he found Hummel unconscious and bleeding freely about the face. Taken to the hospital in an ambulance, Hummel was treated and then released to police, who charged him with intoxication. Hummel told police he could not recall how he was injured.

Hummel, pleading guilty, was fined $10 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. The fine was suspended on payment of the $7.50 costs.

Astronauts, Wives Together First Time

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The nation's 16 astronauts and their wives got together for the first time at an informal buffet supper last weekend, the John H. Glenns said Tuesday.

The supper was held at the Glenn home.

"No one was missing," said Glenn, the first American to make an orbital flight. "It was sort of a first for all of us—the first time we 16 fellows and our wives have been together for such a very informal and enjoyable evening."

Just Like Old Santa, Man Says Of Money

SCHUYLERVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Milton Larmon suddenly has acquired $12,000 from unexpected sources.

A man recently handed the 78-year-old house-mover a check for $8,485 and explained it was payment and interest on a $5,000 house-moving job Larmon did 11 years ago.

Next, Larmon received a $3,246 check from Social Security, with an explanation that he had been underpaid and the money represented an adjustment.

"It was just like old Santa Claus," Larmon said.

Long Section 8 Winning Streak Stopped At 27 In 57-54 Loss

By ANDY NUZZO

The Midland Leopards lost their chance to clinch a tie for the Section 8 title when they dropped a heart-breaker to the New Brighton Lions, 57-54, before a standing-room-only crowd at Dawes Gym in New Brighton, Tuesday night.

The loss was the first inflicted upon the Leopards in 11 section games this season. The 27-game sectional winning streak of Midland's was also halted. The last team to defeat Hank Kuzma's quint before last night was Beaver in 1960-61, when the Bobcats won the section crown.

New Brighton, after an upset loss to Monaca last week, is now only one game behind the Leopards with a 9-2 record and three games remaining.

—:—

THE LIONS and Leopards are favored to win all of their remaining games but the way things are going, anything can happen.

Hank Kuzma's dribblers face Rochester at home this Friday, then move on to Riverside to engage the Panthers before returning to their home floor and close out the season with the unpredictable Monaca Indians.

BILL EDWARDS will take his squad on the road to Beaver and Hopewell before closing out their season at home against Rochester.

Both teams shot 39 per cent from the field last night, New Brighton swishing 23 of 59 attempts and Midland 22 of 56. The big difference was in the rebounding department, where the Lions had a 38-25 edge.

The Lions dealt a hot hand from the field in the first half. They jumped off to a quick 13-8 lead at the close of the opening period and increased it to 30-22 at the half. In the first half New Brighton had full control of the boards.

—:—

IN THE third period Midland went into a press and started to chop away at the New Brighton lead. The Lions led, 38-31, when the Leopards made their move.

Rod Alston, who scored seven points in the third frame, whipped in three quick baskets to pull Midland within one point at 38-37.

After sophomore John Beane swished a free throw to give Brighton a two point lead, Gary Perkins stole the ball from Bill Mineard at mid-court and sank an easy layup to tie the score at 39-39 with 27 seconds remaining in the third period.

—:—

THE THIRD period closed without further scoring and Perkins opened the final stanza by sinking two free throws to give Midland a 41-39 lead, their first since the opening moments of the contest.

Mineard tied it with a jumper from the top of the key and Beane put the Lions in front with two jump shots from the corner.

It was Beane and Mineard who proved to be the thorns in the side of the Leopards. In the final period the duo tossed in 16 of New Brighton's 18 points. Beane hit for nine and Mineard poured in seven.

—:—

MIDLAND managed to tie the game at 45-45 when Ray Hoppa swished a jumper and Perkins added a driving lay-up, but couldn't grab the lead.

Beane and Jim Oldenburg exchanged jump shots with Hoppa and Brighton led, 49-47, with some three minutes remaining. They were never caught by Midland again.

Steve Karaisz, New Brighton's senior forward, fouled out of the game with 2:18 left and Sim Hill converted two free throws to pull Midland within one point, 51-50.

—:—

BEANE and Mineard came on to score six points while Midland managed four to sew up the victory.

Beane led a balanced Brighton offense in which four starters scored in double figures. Beane dropped in five fielders and five of six free throws for 15 points and grabbed 13 rebounds.

Oldenburg and Mineard finished with 13 points each and Bob Messick added 12.

—:—

FOR MIDLAND, Perkins and Bill Sallis led the way. The two seniors hit for 15 points each. It was the sparkling play of Perkins in the second half that almost pulled the game out of the fire for the Leopards.

Alston and Hill added nine points apiece to the Midland attack.

Ferrell Nets 22 In 16th

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The Newell Vikings jumped on top, 8-0, then went all the way to post their most convincing victory in three starts this season against their longtime rival — Chester — Tuesday night on the Panthers' floor.

Coach John Robison's team posted a 64-44 margin for victory No. 16 against only three setbacks this season. The record is second best in the district this season, with Midland the only team with a better mark at 17-2.

—:—

LAST NIGHT'S victory assured Newell of the series edge in the four game set. The two Hancock County rivals will meet for the final time Feb. 26 in an afternoon game at Newell and that contest is the only one remaining on the Vikings 1962-63 sechedule.

In two other meetings this season, Newell finished on top 50-43 and 65-41.

Fred Ferrell carried Newell through a slow first half which saw both teams having a hard time finding the range. Ferrell found it though, coming up with a 14-point first half and winding up with a 22-point total. He scored 14 of his team's first 19 points.

WITH FERRELL pounding the hoop with accuracy, Newell moved on top 9-3 at the first quarter pole and showed a 21-13 edge at halftime.

Where Ferrell left off in the first half, Sam Simmons and Dave Bell, a fine spot player, picked up in the second half.

Simmons, held scoreless in the first two periods, shattered the hoop for 15 markers in the second half while Bell scored 10 of his 12 points in a substitute role during the last two quarters.

—:—

SIMMONS gathered nine points in the third period to put Newell in front, 40-28, when the quarter ended. The margin reached 21 points halfway through the fourth quarter as Robison unloaded his bench in the closing minutes.

The defeat was Chester's ninth against six victories and the Panthers have four games remaining on their slate.

Pacing Chester was Kelse Johnson, an adept ball stealer, who scored 15 points. Thirteen of his total came in the second half when he attempted to put his mates back in the contest.

JOHNSON was the only Chester starter in the twin figures but Jim Tridico garnered nine points before fouling out with 2:07 remaining in the game.

Newell turned in a 36 per cent shooting mark on 21 of 58 attempts while Chester shot 33 per cent, connecting on 19 of 57.

The Panthers couldn't get going in the first quarter, hitting only one out of 10 and allowed Newell to get an early upper hand.

The Newell reserves made it a clean sweep for the Viking forces by defeating the Chester jayvees, 57-48.

Bell and Ed Ingram tied for scoring honors with 12 each while Mike Clutter of Chester led all scorers with 18 and Lee Stewart added 14.

New Brighton, after an upset loss to Monaca last week, is now only one game behind the Leopards with a 9-2 record and three games remaining.

—:—

THE LIONS and Leopards are favored to win all of their remaining games but the way things are going, anything can happen.

Hank Kuzma's dribblers face Rochester at home this Friday, then move on to Riverside to engage the Panthers before returning to their home floor and close out the season with the unpredictable Monaca Indians.

BILL EDWARDS will take his squad on the road to Beaver and Hopewell before closing out their season at home against Rochester.

Both teams shot 39 per cent from the field last night, New Brighton swishing 23 of 59 attempts and Midland 22 of 56. The big difference was in the rebounding department, where the Lions had a 38-25 edge.

The Lions dealt a hot hand from the field in the first half. They jumped off to a quick 13-8 lead at the close of the opening period and increased it to 30-22 at the half. In the first half New Brighton had full control of the boards.

—:—

IN THE third period Midland went into a press and started to chop away at the New Brighton lead. The Lions led, 38-31, when the Leopards made their move.

Rod Alston, who scored seven points in the third frame, whipped in three quick baskets to pull Midland within one point at 38-37.

After sophomore John Beane swished a free throw to give Brighton a two point lead, Gary Perkins stole the ball from Bill Mineard at mid-court and sank an easy layup to tie the score at 39-39 with 27 seconds remaining in the third period.

—:—

THE THIRD period closed without further scoring and Perkins opened the final stanza by sinking two free throws to give Midland a 41-39 lead, their first since the opening moments of the contest.

Mineard tied it with a jumper from the top of the key and Beane put the Lions in front with two jump shots from the corner.

It was Beane and Mineard who proved to be the thorns in the side of the Leopards. In the final period the duo tossed in 16 of New Brighton's 18 points. Beane hit for nine and Mineard poured in seven.

—:—

MIDLAND managed to tie the game at 45-45 when Ray Hoppa swished a jumper and Perkins added a driving lay-up, but couldn't grab the lead.

Beane and Jim Oldenburg exchanged jump shots with Hoppa and Brighton led, 49-47, with some three minutes remaining. They were never caught by Midland again.

Steve Karaisz, New Brighton's senior forward, fouled out of the game with 2:18 left and Sim Hill converted two free throws to pull Midland within one point, 51-50.

—:—

BEANE and Mineard came on to score six points while Midland managed four to sew up the victory.

Beane led a balanced Brighton offense in which four starters scored in double figures. Beane dropped in five fielders and five of six free throws for 15 points and grabbed 13 rebounds.

Oldenburg and Mineard finished with 13 points each and Bob Messick added 12.

—:—

FOR MIDLAND, Perkins and Bill Sallis led the way. The two seniors hit for 15 points each. It was the sparkling play of Perkins in the second half that almost pulled the game out of the fire for the Leopards.

Alston and Hill added nine points apiece to the Midland attack.

Ferrell Nets 22 In 16th

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The Newell Vikings jumped on top, 8-0, then went all the way to post their most convincing victory in three starts this season against their longtime rival — Chester — Tuesday night on the Panthers' floor.

Coach John Robison's team posted a 64-44 margin for victory No. 16 against only three setbacks this season. The record is second best in the district this season, with Midland the only team with a better mark at 17-2.

—:—

LAST NIGHT'S victory assured Newell of the series edge in the four game set. The two Hancock County rivals will meet for the final time Feb. 26 in an afternoon game at Newell and that contest is the only one remaining on the Vikings 1962-63 sechedule.

In two other meetings this season, Newell finished on top 50-43 and 65-41.

Fred Ferrell carried Newell through a slow first half which saw both teams having a hard time finding the range. Ferrell found it though, coming up with a 14-point first half and winding up with a 22-point total. He scored 14 of his team's first 19 points.

WITH FERRELL pounding the hoop with accuracy, Newell moved on top 9-3 at the first quarter pole and showed a 21-13 edge at halftime.

Where Ferrell left off in the first half, Sam Simmons and Dave Bell, a fine spot player, picked up in the second half.

Simmons, held scoreless in the first two periods, shattered the hoop for 15 markers in the second half while Bell scored 10 of his 12 points in a substitute role during the last two quarters.

—:—

SIMMONS gathered nine points in the third period to put Newell in front, 40-28, when the quarter ended. The margin reached 21 points halfway through the fourth quarter as Robison unloaded his bench in the closing minutes.

The defeat was Chester's ninth against six victories and the Panthers have four games remaining on their slate.

Pacing Chester was Kelse Johnson, an adept ball stealer, who scored 15 points. Thirteen of his total came in the second half when he attempted to put his mates back in the contest.

JOHNSON was the only Chester starter in the twin figures but Jim Tridico garnered nine points before fouling out with 2:07 remaining in the game.

Newell turned in a 36 per cent shooting mark on 21 of 58 attempts while Chester shot 33 per cent, connecting on 19 of 57.

The Panthers couldn't get going in the first quarter, hitting only one out of 10 and allowed Newell to get an early upper hand.

The Newell reserves made it a clean sweep for the Viking forces by defeating the Chester jayvees, 57-48.

Bell and Ed Ingram tied for scoring honors with 12 each while Mike Clutter of Chester led all scorers with 18 and Lee Stewart added 14.

Loyola Nips Marquette In Overtime, 92-90

★ ★ ★ Harkness Saves Contest ★ ★ ★

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Harkness, a smoothie in the clutch, has saved unbeaten Chicago Loyola from the college basketball upset of the season at the hands of an aroused band of Marquette Warriors.

The 6-foot-2 Harkness scored twice in the last 30 seconds of an overtime period to give the nation's No. 2 ranked team a 92-90 victory in a fierce struggle at Chicago Stadium Tuesday night. It was Loyola's 21st straight victory, 22 including last season.

Penn snapped LaSalle's 10-game winning streak, beating the Explorers 78-74 behind Ray Carazo's 20 points. The game was the feature of a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra. In the opener Barry Kramer, the nation's second highest scorer, scored 27 points to lead NYU to its eighth straight victory, a 77-59 conquest of Temple.

Providence, playing at home, came from behind in the second half for a 93-75 victory over Rhode Island. St. John's won its third straight, 42-41 in overtime from George Washington at Washington. Tulane, upset victor over Georgia Tech last week, won another Southeastern Conference game, 59-57 over Louisiana State at Baton Rouge.

Wake Forest edged Virginia Tech at Blacksburg 64-61, North Carolina rallied in the final minutes to beat N.C. State 68-63 at Raleigh, and VMI downed the Citadel 70-65 in overtime at Charleston, S.C. on Joe Kurszewski's five points in the extra period.

Texas made its record 8-0 in Southwest Conference competition by beating Texas Tech 90-76 at Austin. Runner-up Rice stayed in the running with a 69-65 triumph over Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Connecticut whipped Massachusetts 79-66 in the Yankee Conference and Miami, Fla. walloped Rollins 144-75.

Boston College beat Tufts 64-54 in overtime and Northeastern downed Boston Univ. 66-49 in the first round of the Beanpot Tourney at Boston.

In other games, Texas A&M beat SMU 76-70, TCU downed Baylor 66-64 and Tennessee State nipped Creighton 75-74 in the nightcap of the Chicago Stadium doubleheader.

Loyola Coach Fears Bowling Green Trip

CHICAGO (AP)—Loyola Coach George Ireland was miffed at his No. 2 ranked Ramblers Tuesday night after their narrow escape from being upset by fired-up Marquette.

The Ramblers managed to defeat their traditional rivals from Milwaukee 92-90 in overtime on the shooting and ball - stealing heroics of Jerry Harkness.

"It was one of our worst games in the last two years," Ireland said. "We made a lot of dumb mistakes and we didn't take advantage of many scoring opportunities. One of the reasons for our showing probably was because of our 10-day layoff, but we'd better shape up by Saturday when we go to Bowling Green.

"Bowling Green has the same team we played last year and were down by 16 points at one time," continued Ireland. "They have a guy named Howard Komives who can shoot the eyes out of the basket. That'll be a real hornets' nest and we can't afford another letdown."

Palmer Grabs Phoenix Title

Arnie Gains 3rd Straight By One Stroke

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arnold Palmer has his third straight Phoenix Open golf championship today after a final round that was 48 hours late but 7 minutes too long for little Gary Player.

While Player sat glumly near the scoreboard after missing a short putt that meant a playoff, Palmer rammed home a 4-footer for a 70 and a 72-hole total of 273 Tuesday that won the $35,000 tournament by a stroke.

Rain had washed out two previous attempts to play the final round of the championship at the par 72 Arizona Country Club course, but Player, the little man from South Africa, was more concerned about a 7-minute delay.

Needing to sink a 4-footer for a birdie that, as it turned out, would have tied Palmer, Player stewed for 7 minutes while his playing partner, Don January, waited to see if a putt that had hung on the lip of the cup on the 18th hole would drop in.

It didn't and an obviously nervous Player finally got a chance at his 4-footer, and missed it—settling for a par 4 and a runner-up total of 274, a stroke behind Palmer and a stroke ahead of the third-place finisher, Jack Nicklaus.

To Meet Wellsville, Columbiana

Westgate, East Advance To Tourney Semi-Finals

East Junior High will clash with Columbiana and Westgate has a date with Wellsville in the semi-finals of the Junior High Basketball tournament to be staged Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

Westgate and Wellsville will meet in the first game at 4:30 with East and Columbiana taking the floor about 5:30. The two winners will meet in the finals Saturday.

Westgate was extended Tuesday by a game Beaver Local squad before coming out on top, 37-26. Coach Dan Fisher's team trailed by a 15-12 margin at halftime before taking the lead, 21-17, after three quarters.

Mike McFarland paced the Wildcats with 10 points while Mike Silliman added eight.

McLaughlin led all scorers with an 11-point effort.

In the nightcap at Westgate, Wellsville came racing from behind in the fourth period to nip Steubenville Big Red, 45-39.

Trailing at halftime, 24-20, Wellsville remained behind, 31-28, going into the final period but went on to outscore Big Red, 17-8, in the last six minutes.

Comparetto's 19 points featured for the Tigers while Wright hit for 12 points. Dixon led Steubenville with 10.

The two contests of East Junior were spine tinglers with East edging Weirton, 35-33, and Columbiana nipping Toronto, 28-27.

East got off to a bad start, scoring only one point in the first quarter, but the outside shooting of Mike Goodballet and all around play of Danny Roach broke the contest open in the second period when East drove into a 17-12 halftime margin.

After three periods, East led 29-20 and hung on for the narrow victory although being outscored, 13-6, in the final period.

Roach led the Panthers with 10 points while Goodballet dropped in eight.

Myers, Weirton's big pivot man, tossed in 16 points to capture scoring honors.

Columbiana trailed throughout the contest but caught Toronto at the end to annex a one-point victory.

After a 12-12 halftime tie, Toronto owned a slim 21-19 edge after three periods.

Murphy's 10 points topped Columbiana while Scalley dropped in nine for the losers.

Tresh Richly Rewarded For Rookie Year

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's great to be young—and a Yankee!

That could just about sum up the feelings of Tom Tresh, 24, today after last season's American League Rookie of the Year had signed his 1963 baseball contract with the world champion New York Yankees.

Tresh, who successfully made the transition from an all-star shortstop to a first-class left fielder in late season and then starred afield and at bat in the World Series, was richly rewarded for his performance.

The versatile switch-hitter was given a substantial pay boost by the Yankee front office, up to an estimated $17,500 for his second season in New York pinstripes.

Seven other New Yorkers came to terms, among them Joe Pepitone, who will get first chance at the first base job vacated by Bill Skowron's trade to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Other signees included pitchers Stan Williams, Marshall Bridges, Jim Coates, Hal Stowe, Jim Bronstad and Bob Meyer. This brought the list of contented Yankees to 25 with 12 players, including Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, still unaccounted for.

Other players agreeing to terms Tuesday included shortstop Jose Pagan, catcher Ed Bailey, infielder Dan Markowski of the San Francisco Giants; third baseman Gene Freese and pitcher John Flavin of the Cincinnati Reds; outfielders Don Demeter and John Herrnstein and infielder Danny Cater of the Philadelphia Phils and pitchers Jack Kralick and Ray Moore of the Minnesota Twins.

Wichita Starter Is ? For Cincy

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

WICHITA (AP)—Ralph Miller, Wichita basketball Coach, says he was "conservatively optimistic" about ending Cincinnati's 37-game winning streak here Saturday night "until Leonard Kelley's injury clouded the picture."

Kelley, a fleet 6-foot-1 junior, was hit going in for a layup in the Drake game here Monday night. He fell and slid about 15 feet into a concrete wall, badly bruising his right shoulder. He is a right-handed shooter.

"We probably won't know until game time whether Kelley can play," Miller said today. "Even if he can, his shooting is bound to be off.

"This shortens us up. It hurts our full-court pressing defense and cuts down the speed in our fast break," the coach said. Then he added:

"Of course, the other boys might play even harder to make up for his loss . . . sometimes it works that way."

An overflow crowd of about 11,000 is expected for Wichita's final home game, hoping to see a repeat of Wichita's 52-51 victory over the Bearcats early last season. That one ended a 27-game Cincy winning streak. Nationally top-ranked Cincy beat Wichita 63-50 in their first meeting this season.

Ed Jucker, Cincinnati coach, knows the Wheatshockers will be pointing for his two-time NCAA champions. He put it this way:

"They have been burning and sweating and waiting for us. Maybe the reason they have lost some recent games is they were overlooking everyone else to get to us."

Wichita has a 15-6 record against one of the toughest schedules in the nation.

Overheating Charger Sets Machinery Fire

A battery charger on a crane overheated and set fire to machinery at the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal at 16th and Nevada Sts., Wellsville, Tuesday afternoon at 3.

Employes attempted to quell the flames with dry powder extinguishers before firemen arrived, but were unsuccessful.

Firemen said oil and diesel fuel on the crane ignited. Wiring was damaged but the motor did not appear to be damaged.

Other pins for South Side were made by Ron Halstead (95), Bob Tellish (138), and Joe Tellish (154).

South Side forfeited in the heavyweight class. The regular 180-pounder for the Rams was ineligible, and the 165-pounder was ill. The Rams have a 4-8 record.

Loyola Nips Marquette In Overtime, 92-90

★ ★ ★ Harkness Saves Contest ★ ★ ★

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Harkness, a smoothie in the clutch, has saved unbeaten Chicago Loyola from the college basketball upset of the season at the hands of an aroused band of Marquette Warriors.

The 6-foot-2 Harkness scored twice in the last 30 seconds of an overtime period to give the nation's No. 2 ranked team a 92-90 victory in a fierce struggle at Chicago Stadium Tuesday night. It was Loyola's 21st straight victory, 22 including last season.

Penn snapped LaSalle's 10-game winning streak, beating the Explorers 78-74 behind Ray Carazo's 20 points. The game was the feature of a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra. In the opener Barry Kramer, the nation's second highest scorer, scored 27 points to lead NYU to its eighth straight victory, a 77-59 conquest of Temple.

Providence, playing at home, came from behind in the second half for a 93-75 victory over Rhode Island. St. John's won its third straight, 42-41 in overtime from George Washington at Washington. Tulane, upset victor over Georgia Tech last week, won another Southeastern Conference game, 59-57 over Louisiana State at Baton Rouge.

Wake Forest edged Virginia Tech at Blacksburg 64-61, North Carolina rallied in the final minutes to beat N.C. State 68-63 at Raleigh, and VMI downed the Citadel 70-65 in overtime at Charleston, S.C. on Joe Kurszewski's five points in the extra period.

Texas made its record 8-0 in Southwest Conference competition by beating Texas Tech 90-76 at Austin. Runner-up Rice stayed in the running with a 69-65 triumph over Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Connecticut whipped Massachusetts 79-66 in the Yankee Conference and Miami, Fla. walloped Rollins 144-75.

Boston College beat Tufts 64-54 in overtime and Northeastern downed Boston Univ. 66-49 in the first round of the Beanpot Tourney at Boston.

In other games, Texas A&M beat SMU 76-70, TCU downed Baylor 66-64 and Tennessee State nipped Creighton 75-74 in the nightcap of the Chicago Stadium doubleheader.

Loyola Coach Fears Bowling Green Trip

CHICAGO (AP)—Loyola Coach George Ireland was miffed at his No. 2 ranked Ramblers Tuesday night after their narrow escape from being upset by fired-up Marquette.

The Ramblers managed to defeat their traditional rivals from Milwaukee 92-90 in overtime on the shooting and ball - stealing heroics of Jerry Harkness.

"It was one of our worst games in the last two years," Ireland said. "We made a lot of dumb mistakes and we didn't take advantage of many scoring opportunities. One of the reasons for our showing probably was because of our 10-day layoff, but we'd better shape up by Saturday when we go to Bowling Green.

"Bowling Green has the same team we played last year and were down by 16 points at one time," continued Ireland. "They have a guy named Howard Komives who can shoot the eyes out of the basket. That'll be a real hornets' nest and we can't afford another letdown."

Palmer Grabs Phoenix Title

Arnie Gains 3rd Straight By One Stroke

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arnold Palmer has his third straight Phoenix Open golf championship today after a final round that was 48 hours late but 7 minutes too long for little Gary Player.

While Player sat glumly near the scoreboard after missing a short putt that meant a playoff, Palmer rammed home a 4-footer for a 70 and a 72-hole total of 273 Tuesday that won the $35,000 tournament by a stroke.

Rain had washed out two previous attempts to play the final round of the championship at the par 72 Arizona Country Club course, but Player, the little man from South Africa, was more concerned about a 7-minute delay.

Needing to sink a 4-footer for a birdie that, as it turned out, would have tied Palmer, Player stewed for 7 minutes while his playing partner, Don January, waited to see if a putt that had hung on the lip of the cup on the 18th hole would drop in.

It didn't and an obviously nervous Player finally got a chance at his 4-footer, and missed it—settling for a par 4 and a runner-up total of 274, a stroke behind Palmer and a stroke ahead of the third-place finisher, Jack Nicklaus.

Overheating Charger Sets Machinery Fire

A battery charger on a crane overheated and set fire to machinery at the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal at 16th and Nevada Sts., Wellsville, Tuesday afternoon at 3.

Employes attempted to quell the flames with dry powder extinguishers before firemen arrived, but were unsuccessful.

Firemen said oil and diesel fuel on the crane ignited. Wiring was damaged but the motor did not appear to be damaged.

To Meet Wellsville, Columbiana

Westgate, East Advance To Tourney Semi-Finals

East Junior High will clash with Columbiana and Westgate has a date with Wellsville in the semi-finals of the Junior High Basketball tournament to be staged Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

Westgate and Wellsville will meet in the first game at 4:30 with East and Columbiana taking the floor about 5:30. The two winners will meet in the finals Saturday.

Westgate was extended Tuesday by a game Beaver Local squad before coming out on top, 37-26. Coach Dan Fisher's team trailed by a 15-12 margin at halftime before taking the lead, 21-17, after three quarters.

Mike McFarland paced the Wildcats with 10 points while Mike Silliman added eight.

McLaughlin led all scorers with an 11-point effort.

In the nightcap at Westgate, Wellsville came racing from behind in the fourth period to nip Steubenville Big Red, 45-39.

Trailing at halftime, 24-20, Wellsville remained behind, 31-28, going into the final period but went on to outscore Big Red, 17-8, in the last six minutes.

Comparetto's 19 points featured for the Tigers while Wright hit for 12 points. Dixon led Steubenville with 10.

The two contests of East Junior were spine tinglers with East edging Weirton, 35-33, and Columbiana nipping Toronto, 28-27.

East got off to a bad start, scoring only one point in the first quarter, but the outside shooting of Mike Goodballet and all around play of Danny Roach broke the contest open in the second period when East drove into a 17-12 halftime margin.

After three periods, East led 29-20 and hung on for the narrow victory although being outscored, 13-6, in the final period.

Roach led the Panthers with 10 points while Goodballet dropped in eight.

Myers, Weirton's big pivot man, tossed in 16 points to capture scoring honors.

Columbiana trailed throughout the contest but caught Toronto at the end to annex a one-point victory.

After a 12-12 halftime tie, Toronto owned a slim 21-19 edge after three periods.

Murphy's 10 points topped Columbiana while Scalley dropped in nine for the losers.

Tresh Richly Rewarded For Rookie Year

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's great to be young—and a Yankee!

That could just about sum up the feelings of Tom Tresh, 24, today after last season's American League Rookie of the Year had signed his 1963 baseball contract with the world champion New York Yankees.

Tresh, who successfully made the transition from an all-star shortstop to a first-class left fielder in late season and then starred afield and at bat in the World Series, was richly rewarded for his performance.

The versatile switch-hitter was given a substantial pay boost by the Yankee front office, up to an estimated $17,500 for his second season in New York pinstripes.

Seven other New Yorkers came to terms, among them Joe Pepitone, who will get first chance at the first base job vacated by Bill Skowron's trade to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Other signees included pitchers Stan Williams, Marshall Bridges, Jim Coates, Hal Stowe, Jim Bronstad and Bob Meyer. This brought the list of contented Yankees to 25 with 12 players, including Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, still unaccounted for.

Other players agreeing to terms Tuesday included shortstop Jose Pagan, catcher Ed Bailey, infielder Dan Markowski of the San Francisco Giants; third baseman Gene Freese and pitcher John Flavin of the Cincinnati Reds; outfielders Don Demeter and John Herrnstein and infielder Danny Cater of the Philadelphia Phils and pitchers Jack Kralick and Ray Moore of the Minnesota Twins.

Wichita Starter Is ? For Cincy

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

WICHITA (AP)—Ralph Miller, Wichita basketball Coach, says he was "conservatively optimistic" about ending Cincinnati's 37-game winning streak here Saturday night "until Leonard Kelley's injury clouded the picture."

Kelley, a fleet 6-foot-1 junior, was hit going in for a layup in the Drake game here Monday night. He fell and slid about 15 feet into a concrete wall, badly bruising his right shoulder. He is a right-handed shooter.

"We probably won't know until game time whether Kelley can play," Miller said today. "Even if he can, his shooting is bound to be off.

"This shortens us up. It hurts our full-court pressing defense and cuts down the speed in our fast break," the coach said. Then he added:

"Of course, the other boys might play even harder to make up for his loss . . . sometimes it works that way."

An overflow crowd of about 11,000 is expected for Wichita's final home game, hoping to see a repeat of Wichita's 52-51 victory over the Bearcats early last season. That one ended a 27-game Cincy winning streak. Nationally top-ranked Cincy beat Wichita 63-50 in their first meeting this season.

Ed Jucker, Cincinnati coach, knows the Wheatshockers will be pointing for his two-time NCAA champions. He put it this way:

"They have been burning and sweating and waiting for us. Maybe the reason they have lost some recent games is they were overlooking everyone else to get to us."

Wichita has a 15-6 record against one of the toughest schedules in the nation.

Lisbon Board To Go Ahead On Levy Vote

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night discussed the difference in costs and vote requirements of submitting levies at the May primary or at the November election and decided to go ahead with the fund issues on the May 7 ballot.

A 16-mill levy will be submitted for renewal and an additional 3-mill levy will be on the ballot for operating revenues.

The levies will require a 55 per cent affirmative vote for approval in the special election in conjunction with the primary but would take only 50 per cent in the general election in the fall.

The primary vote would cost $500 more than if the levies were on the Nov. 5 ballot. The County Board of Elections has already granted the levies a ballot place.

Proposed new lighting for the Lincoln School and purchase of a new transcriber for the high school commercial class were discussed but tabled.

A service contract with the IBM Co. was renewed and guidance testing material was purchased for $307.75 of which half will be paid by the state out of Title III money. Mrs. Thelma Anderson, English instructor, was allowed $75 for extra work on the senior play.

Fr. William Hohman of the St. George's Catholic Church was given permission to use four classrooms next summer for children's classes.

Supt. Oliver Payne reported that the new language lab has been completed at the high school and the total cost will amount to little over $6,000, of which $3,300 is to be paid out of Title III funds.

A letter was read from Jack Baker, executive director of Southern Local School District, advising it would pay only for junior and senior tuition at Lisbon schools. This year, students of Wayne School District, now part of Southern Local, attend Lisbon High School.

Board members expect to attend one of the four regional meetings of the Ohio School Boards Association on "School Finance."

A meeting with the Citizens Council on Education was set for Feb. 24 at 2:30 p.m., the location to be announced.

Bills of $36,358.95 for payrolls and $5,929.16 for supplies, were ordered paid.

Woman In Truck Charged In Collision

An Irondale area woman was cited after a crash involving two trucks Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. on Route 213 about five miles north of the junction with Route 152.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the mishap involved a pickup truck driven by Tracy Ruth Thomas, 38, of Irondale R. D. 1 and a delivery truck driven by Charles E. Elson, 25, of Wellsburg.

She was headed north and lost control on the icy pavement, skidding into Elson. She was cited for driving without an operator's permit, officers said.

Chester Sea Scouts Enroll 2 Members

Two new members were enrolled by the Chester Sea Scouts at a meeting Tuesday night at the Chester American Legion home.

Jim Conley and Fred Bowers became members, and Hollie Smith of Wellsville was announced as a new advisor.

Twelve members of Troop 74 of East Liverpool were guests. Jeddie Spencer, skipper, was in charge.

The unit received a new flag from the Chester Legion post.

Programs Discussed For Civil War Group

Discussion of future programs was held at a meeting of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Paul Ward screened slides of the reactivated 104th Ohio Volunteer Infantry at the re-enactment at Antietam in 1962. Joseph Robbins, president, was in charge. Next meeting is March 13.

2 Get Wellsville Awards

Wellsville Jaycees named a 32-year-old city fireman and a veteran dairyman as winners of service awards at their first annual Bosses Night banquet Tuesday at the Hotel Wilk.

Frank F. Fusco, 1145 Main St., city fireman for six years and ex-president of the Jaycees, received the Distinguished Service Award and H. Roland Russell, 54, of Old Salineville Rd., owner of Russell's Dairy, was winner of the Civic Service Award.

—:—

FIFTY attended and the program included introduction of members and their bosses and a ringing endorsement of the Jaycees "as a training ground for responsible ciitzens" by John Benincasa of Alliance, principal speaker.

Fusco, recipient of the award to an outstanding citizen under 35, is a charter member of the Jaycees and served as president last year. He also has been first vice president.

He served as chairman of the club's basketball tournament for two years and of a committee that promoted construction of a new entrance at Nicholson Stadium, and worked on other project committees, including the Heart Fund and Mental Health Clinic fund drives.

An Army veteran, Fusco is a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church and the Columbiana County basketball and football officials' associations. He is married to the former Mary Elizabeth Moore and they have two sons.

DON Snediker, secretary, presented the award to Fusco.

Russell, winner of the award for a citizen over 35, is in ill health and was unable to attend.

He has been associated with the dairy since boyhood and is an ex-member of Wellsville civic clubs as well as the former Board of Education of Yellow Creek Township.

In listing Russell's civic service, Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, Jaycee president, said the recipient "is a strong supporter of the educational and athletic programs of the local school system, and his value to our community has been noticed by the Jaycees in particular as he often aids in local projects."

—:—

"HE HAS done noticeable work in such projects as the improvement at Hammond Park and Nicholson Stadium the past two summers, along with supporting and participating in parades and public events of the city," Lombardozzi pointed out.

"Russell has also become a recognized figure the past few winters by aiding greatly in the task of snow-removal in the city. He has done this entirely on his own and has been commended by the city officials for his assistance."

A life-long resident of Wellsville, Russell has two sons, Jerry, a school teacher in the Southern Local system and Jaycee member, and Jim, associated with his father in the dairy business.

Russell underwent open heart surgery twice recently.

JAMES H. RIGGS of East Liverpool, a past president of the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce, congratulated the organization for work on 36 major projects the past year in his remarks as toastmaster.

Benincasa challenged the youth group to strive for new members and help train more valuable citizens in the "Jaycee college of practical leadership."

"The scope and horizons of the organization need to be raised, you must develop untapped potential by obtaining new members and new blood or the organization will die," the speaker said.

National director of Region 3 and past president of Alliance Jaycees, Benincasa also touched on the value of the organization to young men wanting to become leaders.

"THROUGH the Jaycees, one becomes involved in activities you wouldn't dare tackle alone. The Jaycees can turn a pipsqueak into a man, a quitter into a fighter," he declared.

Benincasa asserted that the Wellsville Jaycees have worked on many projects, "but there's still lots to be done. You are limited only by personal apathy and an attitude of let George do it," he said.

Head of his own advertising and promotion firm, Artec, Inc., Benincasa said the Jaycee organization has provided him an opportunity to prove himself in business despite humble background of his family.

HE TOLD employers that "what these men learn as Jaycees can eventually be applied to their jobs, and they will be better citizens." "If we don't stand for something, we will fall for anything," he said.

Officers Jail Man In Battle

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set Monday for the conclusion of a hearing for Charles Owens, 772 Woodlawn Ave., who was charged with "hindering, resisting and obstructing" two officers who went to his home Tuesday afternoon at 3 to serve a warrant in a non-support case.

Judge Chertoff continued Owens' case at the suggestion of Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, who pointed out the defendant is due in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Thursday on the non - support charge.

Police said Owens was arrested by Patrolmen John Walsh and William A. Devon. Officer Walsh testified before Judge Chertoff today in the local charge. Judge Chertoff entered a "not guilty" plea for Owens after the defendant said he could not hear well.

Officer Walsh said he and Officer Devon went to the Owens home with the warrant and were admitted by Owens' wife.

"Devon told him we were serving a warrant for non - support and he would have to go to the station," the officer said. "He said he had bought groceries for his family and took us to the kitchen to show them to us. We told him he would have to go to the station and asked him not to give us any trouble.

"He took off his coat and picked up a board from the table. I grabbed one hand and Devon grabbed the other. Then we handcuffed him."

Questioned by the judge, Owens admitted that the officers told him they had a warrant for his arrest, but he added: "I didn't want to come to the station."

Owens said he is a kilndrawer at Plant 4 of the Homer Laughlin China Co. In response to another question, he told the court he had been drinking prior to the incident yesterday, but denied he was intoxicated.

James E. Johnson of Cannons Mills, formerly of East Liverpool, was bound over to the Grand Jury under $1,000 bond today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he burglarized a Trentvale St. home in early January.

Lisbon Board To Go Ahead On Levy Vote

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night discussed the difference in costs and vote requirements of submitting levies at the May primary or at the November election and decided to go ahead with the fund issues on the May 7 ballot.

A 16-mill levy will be submitted for renewal and an additional 3-mill levy will be on the ballot for operating revenues.

The levies will require a 55 per cent affirmative vote for approval in the special election in conjunction with the primary but would take only 50 per cent in the general election in the fall.

The primary vote would cost $500 more than if the levies were on the Nov. 5 ballot. The County Board of Elections has already granted the levies a ballot place.

Proposed new lighting for the Lincoln School and purchase of a new transcriber for the high school commercial class were discussed but tabled.

A service contract with the IBM Co. was renewed and guidance testing material was purchased for $307.75 of which half will be paid by the state out of Title III money. Mrs. Thelma Anderson, English instructor, was allowed $75 for extra work on the senior play.

Fr. William Hohman of the St. George's Catholic Church was given permission to use four classrooms next summer for children's classes.

Supt. Oliver Payne reported that the new language lab has been completed at the high school and the total cost will amount to little over $6,000, of which $3,300 is to be paid out of Title III funds.

A letter was read from Jack Baker, executive director of Southern Local School District, advising it would pay only for junior and senior tuition at Lisbon schools. This year, students of Wayne School District, now part of Southern Local, attend Lisbon High School.

Board members expect to attend one of the four regional meetings of the Ohio School Boards Association on "School Finance."

A meeting with the Citizens Council on Education was set for Feb. 24 at 2:30 p.m., the location to be announced.

Bills of $36,358.95 for payrolls and $5,929.16 for supplies, were ordered paid.

Woman In Truck Charged In Collision

An Irondale area woman was cited after a crash involving two trucks Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. on Route 213 about five miles north of the junction with Route 152.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the mishap involved a pickup truck driven by Tracy Ruth Thomas, 38, of Irondale R. D. 1 and a delivery truck driven by Charles E. Elson, 25, of Wellsburg.

She was headed north and lost control on the icy pavement, skidding into Elson. She was cited for driving without an operator's permit, officers said.

Chester Sea Scouts Enroll 2 Members

The unit received a new flag from the Chester Legion post.

Programs Discussed For Civil War Group

Wellsville Jaycees named a 32-year-old city fireman and a veteran dairyman as winners of service awards at their first annual Bosses Night banquet Tuesday at the Hotel Wilk.

Frank F. Fusco, 1145 Main St., city fireman for six years and ex-president of the Jaycees, received the Distinguished Service Award and H. Roland Russell, 54, of Old Salineville Rd., owner of Russell's Dairy, was winner of the Civic Service Award.

—:—

FIFTY attended and the program included introduction of members and their bosses and a ringing endorsement of the Jaycees "as a training ground for responsible citizens" by John Benincasa of Alliance, principal speaker.

Fusco, recipient of the award to an outstanding citizen under 35, is a charter member of the Jaycees and served as president last year. He also has been first vice president.

He served as chairman of the club's basketball tournament for two years and of a committee that promoted construction of a new entrance at Nicholson Stadium, and worked on other project committees, including the Heart Fund and Mental Health Clinic fund drives.

An Army veteran, Fusco is a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church and the Columbiana County basketball and football officials' associations. He is married to the former Mary Elizabeth Moore and they have two sons.

DON Snediker, secretary, presented the award to Fusco.

Russell, winner of the award for a citizen over 35, is in ill health and was unable to attend.

He has been associated with the dairy since boyhood and is an ex-member of Wellsville civic clubs as well as the former Board of Education of Yellow Creek Township.

In listing Russell's civic service, Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, Jaycee president, said the recipient "is a strong supporter of the educational and athletic programs of the local school system, and his value to our community has been noticed by the Jaycees in particular as he often aids in local projects."

—:—

"HE HAS done noticeable work in such projects as the improvement at Hammond Park and Nicholson Stadium the past two summers, along with supporting and participating in parades and public events of the city," Lombardozzi pointed out.

"Russell has also become a recognized figure the past few winters by aiding greatly in the task of snow-removal in the city. He has done this entirely on his own and has been commended by the city officials for his assistance."

A life-long resident of Wellsville, Russell has two sons, Jerry, a school teacher in the Southern Local system and Jaycee member, and Jim, associated with his father in the dairy business.

Russell underwent open heart surgery twice recently.

JAMES H. RIGGS of East Liverpool, a past president of the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce, congratulated the organization for work on 36 major projects the past year in his remarks as toastmaster.

Benincasa challenged the youth group to strive for new members and help train more valuable citizens in the "Jaycee college of practical leadership."

"The scope and horizons of the organization need to be raised, you must develop untapped potential by obtaining new members and new blood or the organization will die," the speaker said.

National director of Region 3 and past president of Alliance Jaycees, Benincasa also touched on the value of the organization to young men wanting to become leaders.

"THROUGH the Jaycees, one becomes involved in activities you wouldn't dare tackle alone. The Jaycees can turn a pipsqueak into a man, a quitter into a fighter," he declared.

Benincasa asserted that the Wellsville Jaycees have worked on many projects, "but there's still lots to be done. You are limited only by personal apathy and an attitude of let George do it," he said.

Head of his own advertising and promotion firm, Artec, Inc., Benincasa said the Jaycee organization has provided him an opportunity to prove himself in business despite humble background of his family.

HE TOLD employers that "what these men learn as Jaycees can eventually be applied to their jobs, and they will be better citizens." "If we don't stand for something, we will fall for anything," he said.

Lombardozzi introduced members, who in turn presented their bosses.

Guests included Mayor W. W. Daugherty, Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare, Police Chief John Hephner, Fire Chief Robert Lewis, School Supt. Lowell Myers, the Rev. Arden Beck of First Methodist Church, and Lloyd Rhodes, publisher of the Wellsville Press. Rev. Beck gave the invocation and benediction.

UAW Board To Study Gosser's Conviction

DETROIT (AP)—The executive board of the United Auto Workers Union plans to meet Thursday to review the conviction of UAW Vice President Richard T. Gosser.

Gosser and two others were convicted last Friday of conspiring to defraud the government by securing copies of confidential reports about Gosser's income tax returns.

Jury Selection Begins In Bribe Trial Of Sheriff

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Selection of a jury began today in the trial of Belmont County Sheriff George E. Neff, accused of three counts of soliciting bribes and one of embezzlement.

Guernsey County Common Pleas Court Judge Delbert Tedrick will preside at the trial on assignment of the Ohio Supreme Court. Selection of the jury is expected to take up most of the day.

Neff is to be tried on the indictment accusing him of soliciting bribes from Oscar Meloni and John Welsh of the Elks Lodge and Richard Long, representing the Moose Lodge and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A bill of particulars charged that the sheriff, through one of his deputies, unlawfully solicited money from representatives of various Barnesville organizations that sold whisky in the "dry" community, (the money) to be paid to influence Neff "with respect to his official duties."

The embezzlement indictment relates to certain groceries and meats and merchandise worth $1,038 purchased with county funds for jail inmates.

Sargus Proposes Bill On Minor Children

COLUMBUS — A bill to require notifications of hearings for change of name applications involving minor children was introduced in the Ohio Senate Tuesday afternoon by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville.

Sargus said the bill is aimed at insuring notification of a parent who does not consent to the name change.

"The present statute provides only for a single notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least 30 days before the filing of the petition," he said.

While this is sufficient for general notification, said Sargus, "the persons most concerned, the parents of the child, or at least the parent with whom the child is not living, may have no knowledge of the application."

The bill, backed by the Ohio Bar Association and Ohio's Juvenile and probate judges, would give the court an opportunity to hear both parents before making an order, thus protecting the rights of all parties, Sargus said.

Youth Center Will Mark 'Birthday'

Seven years ago, the Midland Hi - Spot Youth Center opened its doors to young people of Midland and vicinity under the direction of Mrs. William Spisak, chairman of the center's Adult Advisory Board.

The center will begin its eighth year with the annual Heart Hop and "open house" Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

It is located on the third floor of the Midland Borough Building, in space provided rent-free by the Borough. All furnishings and fixtures are owned by the youth center.

THE ANNIVERSARY will be celebrated in mardi gras fashion. Balloons, serpentine showers and heart favors will be used and records will be awarded to the "lucky heart" winners. Cookies and punch will be served in the game room and pizza will be dispensed from the kitchen.

The center, now one of the most popular in the valley, was established for students 13 through 19.

The board said programming and supervision have been given at the smallest cost. Of the 15-cent regular admission to members, the center has contributed to the Heart Fund, UNICEF and the March of Dimes.

—:—

OTHER organizations receiving contributions are Mothers' Athletic Association's football program, American Legion Post 481 toy project, Leopard Boosters holiday tournament and Midland High School Rodis. The admission also goes toward repairs to heavily - used equipment purchase of new records.

The two specific projects of the center are assisting Midland Rotary Club with its annual Easter Lily sale for crippled children and honoring the acapella choir and organ students of Midland High School following the annual spring concert.

MRS. SPISAK said the organization has been self - sustaining, soliciting no public funds. During the last seven years, the program has been carried on by Mrs. Spisak and a handful of interested parents. Volunteer help is needed, the director said to ease the responsibility of the board members.

During the last season, the largest attendance was 327 and the smallest was 150 — an off night when all other area canteens operated.

THE YOUNG people are not permitted to wear dungarees or tight fitting jeans at the weekly sessions. Girls usually are attired in skirts and blouses and only after basketball and football games are the girls permitted to wear slacks.

Assisting Mrs. Spisak on the board are Mrs. Stephen Trbovich, Mrs. John Petchel, Mrs. Francis H. Shone, Mrs. Amedio Gianvito, Mrs. Leroy Turner, Mrs. John McNeillie, Mrs. Ralph Bernabie, Mrs. Louis Zigerelli, Mrs. James Shannon, Mrs. Robert Fetterman, Mrs. Ben Joseph and Mrs. Leslie B. Roach.

Guild To Sift Latest Bid In Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Striking Guildsmen at the Cleveland Press and News were to meet this afternoon to consider the latest two-year contract proposal from the publishers of the city's two strike-bound daily newspapers.

The proposal, made Tuesday, includes a $10 wage offer and a union security clause previously proposed by management, according to a Guild spokesman.

The Cleveland Newspaper Guild is one of five unions on strike against the morning Plain Dealer and the afternoon Press and News.

Management's newest money offer to the Guild was $1.50 higher than one made Saturday. It matched the amount two non-striking unions have accepted in contract agreements.

The top newsman minimum in the Guild contract that expired Oct. 31 was $145 a week after five years experience.

According to the Guild, the maintenance of membership proposal would require that all those in the Guild on both papers remain members during the life of the contract. The proposal also would provide a specified period after the contract expires when members could drop out, the Guild said.

Guild units at both newspapers previously approved such a proposal.

Youth Center Will Mark 'Birthday'

Seven years ago, the Midland Hi - Spot Youth Center opened its doors to young people of Midland and vicinity under the direction of Mrs. William Spisak, chairman of the center's Adult Advisory Board.

The center will begin its eighth year with the annual Heart Hop and "open house" Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

It is located on the third floor of the Midland Borough Building, in space provided rent-free by the Borough. All furnishings and fixtures are owned by the youth center.

THE ANNIVERSARY will be celebrated in mardi gras fashion. Balloons, serpentine showers and heart favors will be used and records will be awarded to the "lucky heart" winners. Cookies and punch will be served in the game room and pizza will be dispensed from the kitchen.

The center, now one of the most popular in the valley, was established for students 13 through 19.

The board said programming and supervision have been given at the smallest cost. Of the 15-cent regular admission to members, the center has contributed to the Heart Fund, UNICEF and the March of Dimes.

—:—

OTHER organizations receiving contributions are Mothers' Athletic Association's football program, American Legion Post 481 toy project, Leopard Boosters holiday tournament and Midland High School Rodis. The admission also goes toward repairs to heavily - used equipment purchase of new records.

The two specific projects of the center are assisting Midland Rotary Club with its annual Easter Lily sale for crippled children and honoring the acapella choir and organ students of Midland High School following the annual spring concert.

MRS. SPISAK said the organization has been self - sustaining, soliciting no public funds. During the last seven years, the program has been carried on by Mrs. Spisak and a handful of interested parents. Volunteer help is needed, the director said to ease the responsibility of the board members.

During the last season, the largest attendance was 327 and the smallest was 150 — an off night when all other area canteens operated.

THE YOUNG people are not permitted to wear dungarees or tight fitting jeans at the weekly sessions. Girls usually are attired in skirts and blouses and only after basketball and football games are the girls permitted to wear slacks.

Assisting Mrs. Spisak on the board are Mrs. Stephen Trbovich, Mrs. John Petchel, Mrs. Francis H. Shone, Mrs. Amedio Gianvito, Mrs. Leroy Turner, Mrs. John McNeillie, Mrs. Ralph Bernabie, Mrs. Louis Zigerelli, Mrs. James Shannon, Mrs. Robert Fetterman, Mrs. Ben Joseph and Mrs. Leslie B. Roach.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a plastic surgeon who for reasons of professional ethics must ask you not to print my initiails.

The letter from "Ugly" and your excellent advice caught my eye. I feel, however, that your advice was incomplete. You wisely suggested therapy for the person who broods about his appearance and becomes so miserable he contemplates suicide. After the patient has been helped back from his depressed state, however, he should consult a competent plastic surgeon.

The individual who feels that his facial features are affecting him socially and-or economically should take whatever steps are available to improve his appearance. The psychological effect is sometimes more useful than the actual physical alteration.

No ethical cosmetic surgeon would undertake the operation unless he felt the chance for improvement would warrant the risks, expense and time away from normal activities. You have my permission to print this. — BOSTON READER.

Dear Boston: Thank you for adding to my incomplete reply to "Ugly." I deeply appreciate the interest and the generosity of specialists, such as you, whose comments help to make this column sound and useful.

Sets Poor Example

Dear Ann: I just read the letter from the teen-ager who was ordered to get off the phone when her boy friend called because she already had talked to one fellow that evening.

Last week something similar happened to me. I was talking to my girl friend, and I had a clock right in front of me. We had been on the phone for 17 minutes when my mother came over and yelled right into the mouthpiece, "I'm sick of your foolish jabbering. Get off right now."

Five minutes later a friend of mother's telephoned and they gabbed for one hour and seven minutes. They tore up everybody in their church group, ran down a few relatives, yakked about my father's boss and chopped up the minister's wife.

Why is it all right for her to gossip for over an hour when I have to get off in 17 minutes? —PERSECUTED.

Dear Persecuted: Your mother is not setting a very good example. What some parents don't understand is that children need models more than they need critics.

Nut Of The Year

Dear Ann: If you ever decide to pass out awards for "The Nut of the Year" I think I should win it.

My husband who is 52 suddenly developed an interest in the children of a friend. This woman was widowed two years ago and was left with three boys under 14 years of age.

Six months ago my husband decided to be a second father to these children. I should have waked up and smelled the coffee, as you say, because this guy never paid any attention to his own kids when they were growing up.

Last week I telephoned to ask if she'd like to be with me while my husband was on a camping trip with her boys. Who do you think answered the phone? The oldest kid. They were at home while Mother was out with "Uncle Joe" — that's my old gaffer.

I'm not asking for advice because I know what I'm going to do. I'm writing to wise up other wives whose husbands may be playing the same game.—PRIZE FILBERT.

Dear Prize: Just when I thought I'd heard 'em all, someone comes up with a new angle. I'm printing your letter as further evidence that man's imagination knows no bounds — especially where women are concerned.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Health Unit's Word Waited About Virus

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officials waited word from the State Health Department today about the identity of the virus which has been causing massive school absences.

The influenza-like disease also was striking older persons. Some employers reported higher - than-usual absences in the last two weeks.

Forty-two public schools reported their absenteeism rate was 15 per cent, but in some schools as many as 26 per cent of the students missed class Tuesday. Suburban areas seemed to be less hard hit.

No figures were available for Catholic parochial schools.

The disease has been hitting teachers as well as pupils. Cincinnati schools reported 280 teachers—about 10 per cent—were out Tuesday.

3 Hurt In $40,000 Fire Loss At Findlay

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A fire on South Main Street in downtown Findlay Tuesday night caused damage estimated at $40,000 and injuries to three persons.

Authorities said the blaze gutted a cleaning establishment in a three-story building and caused smoke and water damage to apartments above the store.

Fire Chief Homer F. Johnson said 35 firemen fought the blaze and two suffered minor injuries. One woman in an adjoining apartment was overcome by smoke and hospitalized.

Woman Helps Put Husband, Kin In Jail

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Rose Maynard wept at realizing that her call to police helped to put her husband and brother behind bars on charges of armed robbery and kidnaping.

Wiping her weary eyes with work-reddened hands as she left the police station Tuesday, she said she had forebodings of trouble when her husband, Richard, 32, and her brother, Arthur D. Powell, 30, came home after drinking on Monday.

When her husband took out an old revolver, she became even more frightened. "I tried to take it away from him," she said.

"He told me to shut up. He told me if it had any bullets in it, he'd kill me. But I know he didn't mean that. It was only because he was drunk. He hasn't had a drink in years.

"The minute they left, I called District 4," Mrs. Maynard said. "My husband was on probation and my brother was on parole with only a month to go. I thought if they could be stopped they'd only have a weapons charge against them."

When police caught up with Maynard and Powell, they allegedly had already held up a service station attendant and forced him to accompany them.

Lamar Arnett, 41, the attendant, said the men robbed him of $128 at gun point and threatened to kill him.

Health Unit's Word Waited About Virus

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officials waited word from the State Health Department today about the identity of the virus which has been causing massive school absences.

The influenza-like disease also was striking older persons. Some employers reported higher - than-usual absences in the last two weeks.

Forty-two public schools reported their absenteeism rate was 15 per cent, but in some schools as many as 26 per cent of the students missed class Tuesday. Suburban areas seemed to be less hard hit.

No figures were available for Catholic parochial schools.

The disease has been hitting teachers as well as pupils. Cincinnati schools reported 280 teachers—about 10 per cent—were out Tuesday.

3 Hurt In $40,000 Fire Loss At Findlay

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A fire on South Main Street in downtown Findlay Tuesday night caused damage estimated at $40,000 and injuries to three persons.

Authorities said the blaze gutted a cleaning establishment in a three-story building and caused smoke and water damage to apartments above the store.

Fire Chief Homer F. Johnson said 35 firemen fought the blaze and two suffered minor injuries. One woman in an adjoining apartment was overcome by smoke and hospitalized.

Woman Helps Put Husband, Kin In Jail

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Rose Maynard wept at realizing that her call to police helped to put her husband and brother behind bars on charges of armed robbery and kidnaping.

Wiping her weary eyes with work-reddened hands as she left the police station Tuesday, she said she had forebodings of trouble when her husband, Richard, 32, and her brother, Arthur D. Powell, 30, came home after drinking on Monday.

When her husband took out an old revolver, she became even more frightened. "I tried to take it away from him," she said.

"He told me to shut up. He told me if it had any bullets in it, he'd kill me. But I know he didn't mean that. It was only because he was drunk. He hasn't had a drink in years.

"The minute they left, I called District 4," Mrs. Maynard said. "My husband was on probation and my brother was on parole with only a month to go. I thought if they could be stopped they'd only have a weapons charge against them."

When police caught up with Maynard and Powell, they allegedly had already held up a service station attendant and forced him to accompany them.

Lamar Arnett, 41, the attendant, said the men robbed him of $128 at gun point and threatened to kill him.

On Policies In Europe

U.S. Irritating DeGaulle?

Europe at Crossroads II

Is President de Gaulle stirring up resentment of U. S. policies in Europe? AP correspondent William L. Ryan found some answers on a trip to Paris, London, Bonn and Brussels. This is the second of four articles on the Common Market, NATO, the ideal of European unity—and what they mean to Americans.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

LONDON (AP)—There are vocal and influential people in Western Europe who regard the American presence on the continent as more of a menace than a blessing.

The Brussels explosion at the end of January, when France slammed the door to Europe in Britain's face, has tended in some quarters to increase irritation with the United States.

The British government's careful policy, keeping its anger in check after Brussels, has kept a thumb in the European dike, holding back at least for the time being a tide of resentments.

These could rip Europe asunder, sharpen conflicts and lead toward a thing called continentalism. That suggests less reliance on the United States, and a Europe for Europeans.

The germ of such a development is there, nurtured by French President de Gaulle's outspoken suspicions of and resistance to Washington.

There is a curious blending of right-wing conservative views with those of the far left regarding the U.S. role in Europe.

In England, for example, certain articulate forces were relieved when France's veto kept Britain out of the six-nation Common Market. They saw Britain at a disadvantage as part of an integrated Europe. They prefer something like an enlarged EFTA (European Free Trade Association) without surrender of economic sovereignties.

Things will be tough now for Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's conservative supporters. There had been 15 months of negotiations, with all the agonizing uncertainty, before the door was slammed.

Britain will have a general election before October 1964, and if the government is overturned, the whole picture of Britain's attitude toward the Common Market can be changed radically.

Maurice Macmillan, House of Commons member and son of the prime minister, says he sees no alternative to eventual British membership in an integrated Europe as part of an Atlantic community. He told me the British face a difficult, if not critical, two or three years in which they will have to tighten up all along the line, reduce tariffs and put up stiffer competition for markets. It will not be easy for Britain, struggling with manifold problems, including an unemployment figure which has reached 800,000.

This concept of Britain's future attitude toward the Common Market will meet stiff resistance. One spokesman for the right-wing Tory group is Viscount Hinchingbrooke, the earl of Sandwich. He led a revolt against Common Market membership with the campaign cry that it would betray British interests and make Britain too subservient to the United States. This line was powerful enough to deprive the Conservatives of a once safe House of Commons seat in a special election last November.

Lord Hinchingbrooke, an amiable peer who does not consider himself anti-American, told me he finds deep unease in Britain about the United States. He says people should forget about the menace of Communism, "wake up and see that the United States has done us harm, while the Russians have not." But, he complained, Britain's foreign office is tied tightly to U.S. policy.

There is latent anger in Britain about this, he said. He pointed to U.S. policy during the Suez crisis in 1956, U.S. recognition of the revolutionary Yemen Government in the Middle East where British interests are threatened, and the U.S. attitude in the Congo—where, he says, Washington policy threatens Katanga's neighbor, British-ruled Rhodesia.

He says Russia is not as menacing as it was 10 years ago, when British-American domination of Europe made sense. Fears of Russia have diminished, he insists, making the united, integrated Eurole concept out of date.

This is close to the view of French President Charles de Gaulle. Without being great admirers of De Gaulle, influential people in England, France and elsewhere say Europe should act on her own in approaching Moscow not wait for the U.S. to lead. This, they say, is not sponsorship to a third force but an attempt to be more independent.

These still appear to be minority views. There remains a great backlog of pro-American sentiment in Europe, pronounced in West Germany, Italy, the low countries and Britain. But implicit in development of the independent Europe idea is the possibility that new anti-Americanism will grow in England and on the Continent.

On the Continent, some elements approve De Gaulle's twitting of the United States. Should the Common Market collapse from strains induced by the January events, Europe could drift more and more away from the United States and toward De Gaulle's European bloc view.

Skids Blamed In 2 Mishaps

Skids on snow - slicked pavement were blamed for two minor traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Tuesday, police reported.

A collision at River Rd. and Walnut St. at 3:49 p. m. involved a 1957 four - door sedan driven by Judith Ann Fultz, 18, of 540 Campground Rd., Wellsville, and a 1960 four-door sedan operated by John E. McPeek, 44, of 857 Valley Ave., officers said.

The young woman said she saw McPeek's car crossing the railroad tracks at the foot of Walnut St. and attempted to halt, but her car slid on ice and snow and hit the side of McPeek's vehicle. McPeek told police he saw the young woman's auto sliding on the River Rd. as he crossed the tracks, but he was unable to avoid the collision.

Another mishap Tuesday at Virginia Ave. and Fire Alley involved a 1954 four-door sedan driven by James Sumpter, 40, of 1122 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and a 1963 model auto operated by Donald R. Prescott, 18, of 742 St. Clair Ave. and owned by Joseph McGill, 825 Laura Ave., officers said.

Sumpter told police he was driving south on Virginia Ave. when Prescott pulled from the alley and the collision resulted. Prescott was unable to stop because of slippery pavement, he added. Prescott told police he did not see Sumpter's auto until it was too late to halt.

There was damage to the right front fender of the Sumpter auto and the front bumper and grill of the Prescott car, police said.

New Civil War Books Available At City Library

With the centennial of the Battle of Gettysburg due in July, the deluge of Civil War commemorative literature is reaching its peak, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian of the Carnegie Public Library.

James Warner Bellah, novelist and historian, has turned out a superb recreation of this crucial battle. The title is "Soldier's Battle." A technical report on ordnance used throughout the Civil War has been written and illustrated by Jack Coggins in "Arms and Equipment of the Civil War."

The juvenile interest in this era has not been overlooked with a simplified history by Margaret Coit, "The Fight for the Union." The National Park Service historical handbook series has been purchased in heavy binding. It will be welcomed by those groups who revel in the study of strategy. There are eight in this series.

Most of the top brass serving in the great war between the states got their birth of fire in the Mexican campaign. "Zack Taylor's Little Army" was written by Edward J. Nichols, a Penn State professor.

To properly initiate February as the month of the Presidents, there are two outstanding volumes on this week's new bookshelf: The first a mammoth volume by John DosPassos, "Mr. Wilson's War," and a very slight volume by Herbert Hoover "On Growing Up," letters from and to American children. One of his better replies indicates that he picked potato bugs at 10 cents per hundred and used the proceeds to buy firecrackers.

The Ohio Historical Society has just published a volume which deserves perusal for all those who revere Abe Lincoln: "In the Name of the People," speeches and writings of Lincoln and Douglas in the Illinois campaign of 1859.

To seal a two-crust pie, fold the outer edge of the top pastry under the outer edge of the bottom pastry, then flute edge or press with the floured tines of a fork.

The Wellsville Hgih School A Cappella Choir will sing.

Rev. Sanko, president, conducted business. The association said plans will be announced soon regarding a pulpit exchange by Wellsville ministers Feb. 24. Rev. Andrews is in charge.

The Rev. Lewis Frazier, a retired Presbyterian minister, was a guest. He now lives in Wellsville, his native home.

Next meeting is March 4.

Rate Cut Authorized For Electric Homes

Ohio Power Co. announced it has received permission from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to reduce rates charged to customers living in total-electric homes.

The new rate, which will become effective March 1, is the second reduction owners of all-electric homes have received in the past 21 months. The new reduction is 14.3 per cent lower than the bottom step in the present all-electric rate and 20 per cent below the bottom step in Ohio Power's standard residential rate, the utility said.

Warren Gets Grant Under Works Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration has announced an $85,000 grant under the accelerated public works program to Warren, Ohio.

The money, plus $85,000 of applicant funds, will finance construction of two fire stations, including a police pistol range. The project will provide 125 man-months of labor.

Motorist Forfeits

Skids Blamed In 2 Mishaps

Skids on snow - slicked pavement were blamed for two minor traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Tuesday, police reported.

A collision at River Rd. and Walnut St. at 3:49 p. m. involved a 1957 four - door sedan driven by Judith Ann Fultz, 18, of 540 Campground Rd., Wellsville, and a 1960 four-door sedan operated by John E. McPeek, 44, of 857 Valley Ave., officers said.

The young woman said she saw McPeek's car crossing the railroad tracks at the foot of Walnut St. and attempted to halt, but her car slid on ice and snow and hit the side of McPeek's vehicle. McPeek told police he saw the young woman's auto sliding on the River Rd. as he crossed the tracks, but he was unable to avoid the collision.

Another mishap Tuesday at Virginia Ave. and Fire Alley involved a 1954 four-door sedan driven by James Sumpter, 40, of 1122 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and a 1963 model auto operated by Donald R. Prescott, 18, of 742 St. Clair Ave. and owned by Joseph McGill, 825 Laura Ave., officers said.

Sumpter told police he was driving south on Virginia Ave. when Prescott pulled from the alley and the collision resulted. Prescott was unable to stop because of slippery pavement, he added. Prescott told police he did not see Sumpter's auto until it was too late to halt.

There was damage to the right front fender of the Sumpter auto and the front bumper and grill of the Prescott car, police said.

New Civil War Books Available At City Library

With the centennial of the Battle of Gettysburg due in July, the deluge of Civil War commemorative literature is reaching its peak, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian of the Carnegie Public Library.

James Warner Bellah, novelist and historian, has turned out a superb recreation of this crucial battle. The title is "Soldier's Battle." A technical report on ordnance used throughout the Civil War has been written and illustrated by Jack Coggins in "Arms and Equipment of the Civil War."

The juvenile interest in this era has not been overlooked with a simplified history by Margaret Coit, "The Fight for the Union." The National Park Service historical handbook series has been purchased in heavy binding. It will be welcomed by those groups who revel in the study of strategy. There are eight in this series.

Most of the top brass serving in the great war between the states got their birth of fire in the Mexican campaign. "Zack Taylor's Little Army" was written by Edward J. Nichols, a Penn State professor.

To properly initiate February as the month of the Presidents, there are two outstanding volumes on this week's new bookshelf: The first a mammoth volume by John DosPassos, "Mr. Wilson's War," and a very slight volume by Herbert Hoover "On Growing Up." letters from and to American children. One of his better replies indicates that he picked potato bugs at 10 cents per hundred and used the proceeds to buy firecrackers.

The Ohio Historical Society has just published a volume which deserves perusal for all those who revere Abe Lincoln: "In the Name of the People," speeches and writings of Lincoln and Douglas in the Illinois campaign of 1859.

To seal a two-crust pie, fold the outer edge of the top pastry under the outer edge of the bottom pastry, then flute edge or press with the floured tines of a fork.

Pastors Plan Easter Events At Wellsville

Plans for two special events for the Easter season were outlined by the Wellsville Ministerial Association at a meeting Monday at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association building.

Joint Good Friday services will be held at the Covenant United Presbyterian Church from 2 to 3 p. m. The Rev. Robert Andrews of the First Christian Church will be the speaker. The choir will be announced later.

A community Easter sunrise service will be held on the parking lot of Mason's Foodliner.

The Rev. Arden Beck, Rev. Andrews, the Rev. William Hewitt, the Rev. Bruce Davis and the Rev. James Sanko will be in charge.

The Wellsville Hgih School A Cappella Choir will sing.

Rev. Sanko, president, conducted business. The association said plans will be announced soon regarding a pulpit exchange by Wellsville ministers Feb. 24. Rev. Andrews is in charge.

The Rev. Lewis Frazier, a retired Presbyterian minister, was a guest. He now lives in Wellsville, his native home.

Next meeting is March 4.

Rate Cut Authorized For Electric Homes

Ohio Power Co. announced it has received permission from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to reduce rates charged to customers living in total-electric homes.

The new rate, which will become effective March 1, is the second reduction owners of all-electric homes have received in the past 21 months. The new reduction is 14.3 per cent lower than the bottom step in the present all-electric rate and 20 per cent below the bottom step in Ohio Power's standard residential rate, the utility said.

Warren Gets Grant Under Works Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration has announced an $85,000 grant under the accelerated public works program to Warren, Ohio.

The money, plus $85,000 of applicant funds, will finance construction of two fire stations, including a police pistol range. The project will provide 125 man-months of labor.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — George D. O'Brien, 20, of Deepwater, W. Va., forfeited a $20 appearance bond Monday in County Judge James MacDonald's court on charges of crossing a yellow line in a hazardous zone. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Rotary Hears R. V. Beatty

Construction Executive Sees Upswing In 1963

The construction industry is sizing up 1963 as another record year, with a continued rise in building costs and more use of plastics and light metals, Richard V. Beatty told the Rotary Club Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

The president of Potters Lumber Co. and two associate firms said construction of public buildings and highways will be on the upswing locally in 1963, and the industry as a whole sees more business than in 1962.

Construction of new housing locally will probably be "down" in a general trend away from single-family dwellings, as the elderly seek apartments and a relief from such household chores as lawn mowing and maintenance, Beatty said.

He mentioned these projects as adding to the expected rise in construction of public buildings and highways locally:

Station A Post Office in East End, Oakland Free Methodist Church, Nurses Home at City Hospital, improvement of St. Clair Ave. from Princeton St. to the city limits, work on the second stage of the Lake Erie-Ohio River freeway, and a new commercial building to be constructed by Jack Shaw, local jeweler, at the site of the former Peoples Drugstore.

Beatty said the cost of building in 1963 will continue to rise 3 to 5 per cent.

A veteran of almost 30 years in the building business, Beatty displayed pictures of projects completed by his company from 1912 through 1962.

Some of the larger jobs included the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Osteopathic Hospital, National Church Supply Co., First National Auto Bank, Sterling China Co. office, Beaver Local High School and Westgate Junior High School, and a number of residences.

Industrial construction has been down locally, because of the lagging economy here, but his firm's projects have also included additions at Globe Brick Co., Hall China Co., the Knowles China Co., Louthan Manufacturing Co., and Sterling, Beatty pointed out.

Although Potters Construction Co. and its affiliates generally contract local projects, "we do go afield sometimes," Beatty said, adding his firm built post offices in seven other states besides Ohio, including Boulder Colo., Booneville, Mo., and Lawton, Okla.

Potters Construction Co. was acquired in 1912 from Rober Hall Lumber Co., and the business was separated in 1955 into three branches—Potters Construction Co., Builders Wholesale Corp. and Potters Lumber Co., Beatty explained. In 1956, operations were moved from 318 Broadway to St. Clair Plaza in Calcutta.

Beatty also displayed examples of trends in building design, both residential and commercial.

He pointed out there is a definite trend in dwellings to large glass areas, a mixture of masonry and plywood, emphasizing outdoor living.

Meanwhile, commercial and public building designers are turning to aluminum window walls with colored porcelain, enamel panels, precast concrete, and geometric patterned roofs, he said.

Explaining a financial paradox of the industry, Beatty said Dun & Bradstreet reported over 16 per cent of U. S. contractors went bankrupt in 1961, and 2,703 businesses failed last year.

"Why so many failures?" He explained that "it's easy to get into the construction business if a carpenter or bricklayer; it's easy to get loans at financial institutions if of good character, and easy to get a construction bond.

"But banks and bonding agencies are learning that a good mechanic is not always a good supervisor and good businessman," he added.

Because of the many financial disasters in the industry, prequalification of contractors before bidding is now required in Ohio on all highway projects, and by some federal agencies and many private companies, he said.

Negotiation of contracts is also becoming an integral part of the industry in a general trend to avoid headaches and embarrassment involved in doing business with inexperienced contractors, he said.

Beatty termed "a vicious proposition" the "fly-by-night" contractors who fleece unwary homeowners by misrepresentation in such fields as siding, roofing and furnace jobs.

His guests were David Beatty, a brother who is company vice president and treasurer, and Jack Smith, secretary. Ralph Finley, club vice president, presided.

Rotary Hears R. V. Beatty

Construction Executive Sees Upswing In 1963

The construction industry is sizing up 1963 as another record year, with a continued rise in building costs and more use of plastics and light metals, Richard V. Beatty told the Rotary Club Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

The president of Potters Lumber Co. and two associate firms said construction of public buildings and highways will be on the upswing locally in 1963, and the industry as a whole sees more business than in 1962.

Construction of new housing locally will probably be "down" in a general trend away from single-family dwellings, as the elderly seek apartments and a relief from such household chores as lawn mowing and maintenance, Beatty said.

He mentioned these projects as adding to the expected rise in construction of public buildings and highways locally:

Station A Post Office in East End, Oakland Free Methodist Church, Nurses Home at City Hospital, improvement of St. Clair Ave. from Princeton St. to the city limits, work on the second stage of the Lake Erie-Ohio River freeway, and a new commercial building to be constructed by Jack Shaw, local jeweler, at the site of the former Peoples Drugstore.

Beatty said the cost of building in 1963 will continue to rise 3 to 5 per cent.

A veteran of almost 30 years in the building business, Beatty displayed pictures of projects completed by his company from 1912 through 1962.

Some of the larger jobs included the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Osteopathic Hospital, National Church Supply Co., First National Auto Bank, Sterling China Co. office, Beaver Local High School and Westgate Junior High School, and a number of residences.

Industrial construction has been down locally, because of the lagging economy here, but his firm's projects have also included additions at Globe Brick Co., Hall China Co., the Knowles China Co., Louthan Manufacturing Co., and Sterling, Beatty pointed out.

Although Potters Construction Co. and its affiliates generally contract local projects, "we do go afield sometimes," Beatty said, adding his firm built post offices in seven other states besides Ohio, including Boulder Colo., Booneville, Mo., and Lawton, Okla.

Potters Construction Co. was acquired in 1912 from Robert Hall Lumber Co., and the business was separated in 1955 into three branches—Potters Construction Co., Builders Wholesale Corp. and Potters Lumber Co., Beatty explained. In 1956, operations were moved from 318 Broadway to St. Clair Plaza in Calcutta.

Beatty also displayed examples of trends in building design, both residential and commercial.

He pointed out there is a definite trend in dwellings to large glass areas, a mixture of masonry and plywood, emphasizing outdoor living.

Meanwhile, commercial and public building designers are turning to aluminum window walls with colored porcelain, enamel panels, precast concrete, and geometric patterned roofs, he said.

Explaining a financial paradox of the industry, Beatty said Dun & Bradstreet reported over 16 per cent of U. S. contractors went bankrupt in 1961, and 2,703 businesses failed last year.

"Why so many failures?" He explained that "it's easy to get into the construction business if a carpenter or bricklayer; it's easy to get loans at financial institutions if of good character, and easy to get a construction bond.

"But banks and bonding agencies are learning that a good mechanic is not always a good supervisor and good businessman," he added.

Because of the many financial disasters in the industry, prequalification of contractors before bidding is now required in Ohio on all highway projects, and by some federal agencies and many private companies, he said.

Negotiation of contracts is also becoming an integral part of the industry in a general trend to avoid headaches and embarrassment involved in doing business with inexperienced contractors, he said.

Beatty termed "a vicious proposition" the "fly - by - night" contractors who fleece unwary homeowners by misrepresentation in such fields as siding, roofing and furnace jobs.

His guests were David Beatty, a brother who is company vice president and treasurer, and Jack Smith, secretary. Ralph Finley, club vice president, presided.

Princess Grace Goes TV

Hal Humphrey

This high praise for Princess Grace is in spite of the several road blocks Cynthia encountered in attempting to show off the Princess' sense of humor about herself and life in the palace.

-:-

"LOTS OF LITTLE jokes had to come out of the script," says Cynthia. "You must remember that it's a very old group in Monaco. Princess Grace apparently feels she must be very impersonal about herself."

On a visit to a children's school and orphanage, Her Highness will introduce viewers to a mongrel dog named Melange which she had donated for the kids. The dog was originally a gift to her from Cary Grant.

"That fact had to come out," says Cynthia, "along with a line about a parrot called Coco who lived with a priest and whistled at pretty girls."

No only does the former movie actress comport herself as every inch the Princess, but Cynthia reports that she resents outsiders who deride Monaco as a kind of comedy kingdom.

-:-

"SHE ALSO HATES any talk comparing this filmed TV visit with Jackie Kennedy's White House tour. She likes Jackie very much, but doesn't want people to think it is an imitation," Cynthia states.

This stand of Princess Grace aced Cynthia out of a book version of "A Look at Monaco." There is a book now on Jackie's White House tour, and when Princess Grace learned of it, she killed the idea of a book for her and Prince Rainier III.

Because of Cynthia's persuasion, the royal children — Caroline, 6, and Albert, 5—appear and speak during the tour of the palace.

On the night of the big festival ball in November when this film account was made, Princess Grace wound the evening up by doing what Cynthia describes as "the meanest Twist of anyone I've ever seen." Needless to report, no cameras were around to record a twisting Serene Highness for posterity or TV.

-:-

"SHE DOES a wonderful job," adds Cynthia, in unabashed admiration for the manner in which Princess Grace discharges her royal duties in the Principality of Monaco.

"The first day or two I was there I didn't know quite how to approach her, but before long I was calling her 'Your Highness' and curtseying with the best of them."

Bill Frye, producer of the film for Hollywood's Revue Studios, also had his royal problems to overcome. Prince Rainier did not want any commercials to be cut into the program within three minutes of any of his or Princess Grace's appearances on the film.

With two sponsors in the act, Frye was in worse shape than the old woman in the shoe. In his case, he had so many commercials he didn't know what to do. Finally, he got the royal couple to relent by promising there would be no commercial interruption of their highnesses "within a reasonable amount of time."

TO BRIDGE ONE of these "reasonable time" periods, Frye had the Prince and Princess jump into a car and head down the highway, but someone from the ad agency for an auto maker-sponsor noticed the car was of foreign make (foreign to him, anyway), so the scene had to be reshot with their highnesses boarding a boat.

If the other sponsor, who makes synthetic materials, discovers that Princess Grace's two-piece green suit worn in one scene is made from handwoven tweed from Connemara, Ireland, someone else may come unraveled.

Lake Okeechobee in Florida, with an area of 700 square miles, is the largest fresh - water lake in the U. S. which is situated entirely within the borders of one state.

Firm Agrees With Owen To Put In Wiring

The Russell Electric Co., 818 Morton St., and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen reached an agreement Tuesday afternoon under which the contracting firm will complete installation of electrical wiring in the new city incinerator department garage and storage building on E. 2nd St.

The director estimated about a day's work remains in the project. It includes installation of two wires in the center of the building, with six ceiling fixtures and four outlets. The concern is operated by John L. Russell, who will be paid hourly rates for labor, plus additional sums for any materials he furnishes, the director said.

Electrical work on the new building had been at a standstill after an objection was entered several weeks ago by Charles K. Coleman, business agent for Local 93, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. He protested against the city's plan to have the work performed by Fred Kane, salaried city electrician.

Citing rulings issued by Mark McElroy when he was attorney general in 1959, Coleman said law requires the city to let the job to a contractor in any construction estimated to cost $300 or more. It included a definition of public improvements as "all buildings, streets, alleys or other structures constructed by the state or any political subdivision thereof."

Asked for comment, Owen said: "our city electrician was going to do this work. He's a qualified man hired by the city to do this sort of work, but because he wasn't connected with this particular electrical union, the union objected. If he had done the work, there would have been a saving to the city."

Kane had installed the electrical entrance and the panel board when the local interposed its objections.

Russell is a member of IBEW Local 93. Kane is president of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents city workers.

Blue Cross Seen Accepting 18.8% Boost In Rates

CLEVELAND (AP)—An 18.8 per cent rate increase for subscribers offered by the state insurance superintendent probably will be accepted by Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio, says John R. Mannix, executive vice president.

Mannix added that the offer made Tuesday still needed action by the Blue Cross executive board and if accepted the new rates probably would go into effect April 1.

He said the added cost to 1.8 million subscribers in 11 counties would be about $1.25 a month for individuals and $2.50 a month for families.

Blue Cross had sought a 25.9 per cent increase. Insurance Supt. William Morris originally offered a 15.9 per cent boost but explained that the 18.8 per cent offer was based on new figures supplied by Mannix.

The counties in which Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio operates are Ashtabula, Lake, Geauga, Lorain, Portage, Cuyahoga, Ashland, Summit, Wayne, Richland and Medina.

Industry Area Driver Injured In Car Wreck

An Industry area motorist was hospitalized with injuries suffered in a one - car crash at 1:34 a.m. Tuesday in Midland.

Injured was Ronald F. Wilks, 21, of Industry R. D. 1 who was in "fair" condition at Rochester General Hospital.

Midland police said Wilks was traveling on Route 168 when he lost control of his car at the foot of the Midland Heights Hill. The car plunged over an embankment and struck a tree.

The car was demolished. Wilks suffered possible head injuries, lacerations of the scalp and abrasions of the left side of the face.

Ohio Film Shown To Lisbon PTA's

LISBON — Don A. Campbell, health education consultant with the Ohio Department of Health, showed a film, "As Boys Grow," at the combined meeting of the Lincoln and McKinley PTA's Monday night at Lincoln, with Mrs. Alfred Steele, president, presiding.

A discussion and comments followed with Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge, school nurse, making the introduction. Principal John Lewis said the film will be shown to all seventh and eighth grade boys Friday with parents consent.

The Rev. Russell Long, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, led devotions.

Miss Janice Swogger's fourth grade of Lincoln and Mrs. Amy Shattuck's second grade of McKinley received the attendance banners.

Mrs. Ray Davies, general chairman, reminded the group of the family-style public dinner to be given at Lincoln Saturday from 5 to 7 p. m. as the Lincoln PTA's only fund-raising event of the year. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Davies, HA. 4-5320; Mrs. Steele, HA. 4-7655, or any teacher in the school.

School Unit Believes In Plans For Future

NEW CASTLE, Ky. (AP)—Henry County school officials believe in planning ahead so they built a 5,600-seat gymnasium for the county high school. That's big enough to hold half the county population and provide more than nine seats per pupil.

Some area residents are unhappy about the mammoth gym but, said county school Supt. John W. Long, "I'd say 95 per cent of the people are tickled to death."

Long said the school board decided on the large size in order to be prepared for future enrollment growth and added, "This building will serve the county for the next 75 years."

Midland K. C. Home Addition Plans Aired

Plans to erect an addition and remodel the existing home of Midland Council 2006, Knights of Columbus, were discussed at a meeting of the Columbian Home Association, which governs the operation of the building, Monday night.

Tentative plans call for the addition to be 24-x-70 feet. Preliminary sketches will be submitted by Angelo Cellini, grand knight, at a meeting Monday night. Dr. Frank Benedict, president, presided.

Princess Grace Goes TV

Hal Humphrey

This high praise for Princess Grace is in spite of the several road blocks Cynthia encountered in attempting to show off the Princess' sense of humor about herself and life in the palace.

-:-

"LOTS OF LITTLE jokes had to come out of the script," says Cynthia. "You must remember that it's a very old group in Monaco. Princess Grace apparently feels she must be very impersonal about herself."

On a visit to a children's school and orphanage, Her Highness will introduce viewers to a mongrel dog named Melange which she had donated for the kids. The dog was originally a gift to her from Cary Grant.

"That fact had to come out," says Cynthia, "along with a line about a parrot called Coco who lived with a priest and whistled at pretty girls."

No only does the former movie actress comport herself as every inch the Princess, but Cynthia reports that she resents outsiders who deride Monaco as a kind of comedy kingdom.

-:-

"SHE ALSO HATES any talk comparing this filmed TV visit with Jackie Kennedy's White House tour. She likes Jackie very much, but doesn't want people to think it is an imitation," Cynthia states.

This stand of Princess Grace aced Cynthia out of a book version of "A Look at Monaco." There is a book now on Jackie's White House tour, and when Princess Grace learned of it, she killed the idea of a book for her and Prince Rainier III.

Because of Cynthia's persuasion, the royal children — Caroline, 6, and Albert, 5—appear and speak during the tour of the palace.

On the night of the big festival ball in November when this film account was made, Princess Grace wound the evening up by doing what Cynthia describes as "the meanest Twist of anyone I've ever seen." Needless to report, no cameras were around to record a twisting Serene Highness for posterity or TV.

-:-

"SHE DOES a wonderful job," adds Cynthia, in unabashed admiration for the manner in which Princess Grace discharges her royal duties in the Principality of Monaco.

"The first day or two I was there I didn't know quite how to approach her, but before long I was calling her 'Your Highness' and curtseying with the best of them."

Bill Frye, producer of the film for Hollywood's Revue Studios, also had his royal problems to overcome. Prince Rainier did not want any commercials to be cut into the program within three minutes of any of his or Princess Grace's appearances on the film.

With two sponsors in the act, Frye was in worse shape than the old woman in the shoe. In his case, he had so many commercials he didn't know what to do. Finally, he got the royal couple to relent by promising there would be no commercial interruption of their highnesses "within a reasonable amount of time."

TO BRIDGE ONE of these "reasonable time" periods, Frye had the Prince and Princess jump into a car and head down the highway, but someone from the ad agency for an auto maker-sponsor noticed the car was of foreign make (foreign to him, anyway), so the scene had to be reshot with their highnesses boarding a boat.

If the other sponsor, who makes synthetic materials, discovers that Princess Grace's two-piece green suit worn in one scene is made from handwoven tweed from Connemara, Ireland, someone else may come unraveled.

Firm Agrees With Owen To Put In Wiring

The Russell Electric Co., 818 Morton St., and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen reached an agreement Tuesday afternoon under which the contracting firm will complete installation of electrical wiring in the new city incinerator department garage and storage building on E. 2nd St.

The director estimated about a day's work remains in the project. It includes installation of two wires in the center of the building, with six ceiling fixtures and four outlets. The concern is operated by John L. Russell, who will be paid hourly rates for labor, plus additional sums for any materials he furnishes, the director said.

Electrical work on the new building had been at a standstill after an objection was entered several weeks ago by Charles K. Coleman, business agent for Local 93, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. He protested against the city's plan to have the work performed by Fred Kane, salaried city electrician.

Citing rulings issued by Mark McElroy when he was attorney general in 1959, Coleman said law requires the city to let the job to a contractor in any construction estimated to cost $300 or more. It included a definition of public improvements as "all buildings, streets, alleys or other structures constructed by the state or any political subdivision thereof."

Asked for comment, Owen said: "our city electrician was going to do this work. He's a qualified man hired by the city to do this sort of work, but because he wasn't connected with this particular electrical union, the union objected. If he had done the work, there would have been a saving to the city."

Kane had installed the electrical entrance and the panel board when the local interposed its objections.

Russell is a member of IBEW Local 93. Kane is president of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents city workers.

Blue Cross Seen Accepting 18.8% Boost In Rates

CLEVELAND (AP)—An 18.8 per cent rate increase for subscribers offered by the state insurance superintendent probably will be accepted by Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio, says John R. Mannix, executive vice president.

Mannix added that the offer made Tuesday still needed action by the Blue Cross executive board and if accepted the new rates probably would go into effect April 1.

He said the added cost to 1.8 million subscribers in 11 counties would be about $1.25 a month for individuals and $2.50 a month for families.

Blue Cross had sought a 25.9 per cent increase. Insurance Supt. William Morris originally offered a 15.9 per cent boost but explained that the 18.8 per cent offer was based on new figures supplied by Mannix.

The counties in which Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio operates are Ashtabula, Lake, Geauga, Lorain, Portage, Cuyahoga, Ashland, Summit, Wayne, Richland and Medina.

Midland police said Wilks was traveling on Route 168 when he lost control of his car at the foot of the Midland Heights Hill. The car plunged over an embankment and struck a tree.

The car was demolished. Wilks suffered possible head injuries, lacerations of the scalp and abrasions of the left side of the face.

A discussion and comments followed with Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge, school nurse, making the introduction. Principal John Lewis said the film will be shown to all seventh and eighth grade boys Friday with parents consent.

The Rev. Russell Long, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, led devotions.

Miss Janice Swogger's fourth grade of Lincoln and Mrs. Amy Shattuck's second grade of McKinley received the attendance banners.

School Unit Believes In Plans For Future

NEW CASTLE, Ky. (AP)—Henry County school officials believe in planning ahead so they built a 5,600-seat gymnasium for the county high school. That's big enough to hold half the county population and provide more than nine seats per pupil.

Some area residents are unhappy about the mammoth gym but, said county school Supt. John W. Long, "I'd say 95 per cent of the people are tickled to death."

Long said the school board decided on the large size in order to be prepared for future enrollment growth and added, "This building will serve the county for the next 75 years."

Midland K. C. Home Addition Plans Aired

Tentative plans call for the addition to be 24-x-70 feet. Preliminary sketches will be submitted by Angelo Cellini, grand knight, at a meeting Monday night. Dr. Frank Benedict, president, presided.

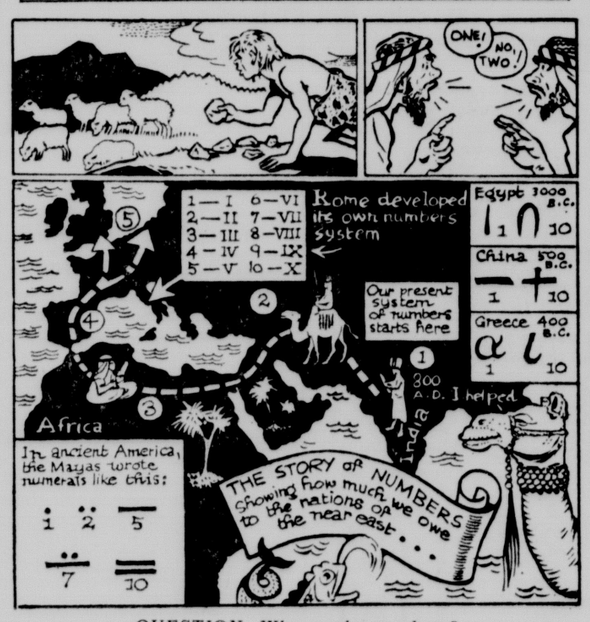
Junior Editors Quiz on NUMBERS



QUESTION: Who made numbers?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The history of numbers probably began when primitive man found a need for keeping count of his possessions — say a flock of sheep. He may have used piles of stones to check with, one stone for each sheep (called keeping tally.) Then, as speech developed, men needed to have words for numbers, to bargain with, for instance, as our picture suggests. It's only a step from this to the invention of marks to stand for the words, or numerals. As our map shows, man has invented many ways to write numerals. Our present way of writing them seems to have orginated in India (1) and was then brought by Arabs (2 and 3) into Spain (4), spread to Europe (5) and from there to the rest of the world. The invention of the printing press in the mid-1400's fixed the system in peoples' minds. The Romans had invented their own system, which we show, but there was no zero in it. It was the concept of the "decimal system" which gives a new value to each number when placed to the left of another, which made the Hindu-Arabian numerals so valuable, along with the use of a zero to fill in the gaps.

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine you are primitive man and spill out 20 grains of rice on a table, representing your flock of 20 sheep. A neighbor has stolen 6 sheep, so you take out 6 grains. Then count the rest one by one. See how slow it is, compared with thinking 20-6=14!

The only industry in Tristan de Cunha, a volcanic fragment in the South Atlantic, was started in 1949 with the opening of a plant to process the spiny lobsters, or crayfish, that abound off the island. Before then, with no cash income, islanders measured wealth in potatoes.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 13, the 44th day of 1963. There are 321 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1680, a bill of rights was adopted by the Convention Parliament, which gave the crown of England to William and Mary. It asserted the right of subjects to petition, the right of parliament to freedom of debate, and the right of electors to choose representatives freely, plus other privileges. However, the bill of rights was not extended to the American Colonists.

On this day:

In 1633, Italian astronomer Galileo arrived in Rome where he was detained by the inquisition.

In 1788, Warren Hastings went on trial in London on charges of high crimes and misdemeanors while governor - general of India but subsequently was acquitted.

In 1883, the great German composer, Richard Wagner, died.

In 1943, the United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve was established.

In 1961, former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was killed in Katanga Province.

Golfer Patty Berg is 45. Operatic soprano Eileen Farrell is 43.

Thought for today:

Custom, then, is the great guide of life—David Hume.

Junior Editors Quiz on NUMBERS

QUESTION: Who made numbers?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The history of numbers probably began when primitive man found a need for keeping count of his possessions — say a flock of sheep. He may have used piles of stones to check with, one stone for each sheep (called keeping tally.) Then, as speech developed, men needed to have words for numbers, to bargain with, for instance, as our picture suggests. It's only a step from this to the invention of marks to stand for the words, or numerals. As our map shows, man has invented many ways to write numerals. Our present way of writing them seems to have orginated in India (1) and was then brought by Arabs (2 and 3) into Spain (4), spread to Europe (5) and from there to the rest of the world. The invention of the printing press in the mid-1400's fixed the system in peoples' minds. The Romans had invented their own system, which we show, but there was no zero in it. It was the concept of the "decimal system" which gives a new value to each number when placed to the left of another, which made the Hindu-Arabian numerals so valuable, along with the use of a zero to fill in the gaps.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine you are primitive man and spill out 20 grains of rice on a table, representing your flock of 20 sheep. A neighbor has stolen 6 sheep, so you take out 6 grains. Then count the rest one by one. See how slow it is, compared with thinking 20-6=14!

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 13, the 44th day of 1963. There are 321 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1680, a bill of rights was adopted by the Convention Parliament, which gave the crown of England to William and Mary. It asserted the right of subjects to petition, the right of parliament to freedom of debate, and the right of electors to choose representatives freely, plus other privileges. However, the bill of rights was not extended to the American Colonists.

On this day:

In 1633, Italian astronomer Galileo arrived in Rome where he was detained by the inquisition.

In 1788, Warren Hastings went on trial in London on charges of high crimes and misdemeanors while governor - general of India but subsequently was acquitted.

In 1883, the great German composer, Richard Wagner, died.

In 1943, the United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve was established.

In 1961, former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was killed in Katanga Province.

Golfer Patty Berg is 45. Operatic soprano Eileen Farrell is 43.

Thought for today:

Custom, then, is the great guide of life—David Hume.

Pictures Of 2 Schools Due At Session

Two new school buildings under construction in the Hancock County system have been selected for an architectural exhibit at the national convention of the American Association of School Administrators Saturday through Feb. 20 in Atlantic City.

The County Board of Education was advised Monday night by the architects, Kellam & Foley of Columbus, that pictures of the North Hancock High School and the Chester Elementary School are to be displayed at Convention Hall.

In addition, a screening committee has selected the North High School, under construction in Pughtown to consolidate upper grades of Chester, Newell and New Cumberland, for a citation.

The North school was one of only 25 schools throughout the nation to be awarded a citation, while the Chester grade school is one of 275 to be exhibited.

Besides the architects, 11 officials in the county system will attend the annual convention, one of the largest school connected meetings in the world. An estimated $10 million in new school equipment will be on display.

The screening committee for the architectural exhibit commented in awarding the citation to the North High School that it has "good learning environment for students, a generous library with lounge reading area and space for outdoor study courts."

"Provision for work centers for the teaching staff is commendable, and the theater unit is well designed," the committee said.

The North High School has an area of 82,410 square feet and the cost is $1,594,780, exclusive of land, landscaping, furniture and fees.

The Chester elementary school will have an area of 18,357 square feet, and the cost is $393,415, exclusive of land, landscaping, furniture and fees.

The buildings, along with a new South High School in Weirton, are slated to be opened in the fall although the actual work is not expected to be fully completed by that time. Plans call for a new cafeteria in Chester to begin operations in September 1964.

The South High School in Weirton also received a citation for excellence in design at the convention last year.

Attending from the county will be Dr. W. Dale Williams, president, John W. Boyd, John Paul Jones, Robert H. Miller and Mrs. Mary Swartz of the County Board of Education; Supt. Robert H. Hall, Charles McKinney, assistant superintendent, Tom Shields, Betty Shaw, Audrey Litman, Elaine McAlpine and Guy Chamberlain Jr.

At the board's meeting in New Cumberland High School, one new teacher was hired and various requests were granted for pupil and teacher activities.

Miss Carol Bender of Weirton was hired as an elementary instructor. The board accepted the resignation of Samuel C. Cogar, science teacher at Weir High School.

James Wares and Robert Rowsey were authorized to attend regional and state wrestling tournaments March 15-22. Jim Carey and Carl Fodor of Weir High were authorized to attend a state basketball tournament, if necessary.

The Wells High School Band was authorized to participate in an area band festival May 3-4 in Clarksburg.

Mrs. Florence Litman of New Cumberland High School was authorized to attend a convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation instructors April 6-10 in Chicago.

Harry A. Wagaman, audio-visual instructor, was authorized to attend a convention of his profession April 23-25 in Denver.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce was given permission to distribute application forms in county schools for a centennial talent contest. Candidates will be selected from the county to appear on Ted Mack's amateur show March 23 in Princeton.

The Centennial Committee was given use of the Weir auditorium March 22-23. The young people of Mt. Olive Baptist Church were authorized to use Dunbar gym Feb. 24 for a program.

Next meeting is Feb. 26.
